Dairies Stop 5-Day Week Deliver 6 Days

A 5-day week for milk deliveries ended this week as the dairies in Newmarket decided to resume deliveries on Wednesdays. The three dairies, Cameron's, Hillsdale and Newmarket have decided, for the time being at least, to leave one day only, Sunday, without deliveries.

A drop in sales is the reason given for resuming six-day service. The change from a 7-day week to a 5-day week at the beginning of the new year coincided with a price rise from 19 to 21 cents a quart.

The dairies' management said that people without refrigerators would find it difficult to keep milk too long, especially during the summer months. They did not say whether they would go back to a 5-day week next fall or not.

RED CROSS DRIVE $3,343 TO DATE

The Newmarket Red Cross campaign has raised $3,343.64 to date with returns still to come in from Newmarket and the district. The bulk of this money was raised last Thursday night with a door-to-door campaign.

Red Cross officials were very pleased with the result so far. Gratitude for the assistance of all those who participated in any way was expressed.

On Tuesday, April 8, Mrs. A. C. McKenzie, well known Red Cross worker and former chairman of branch programs, will visit the Red Cross sewing meeting and after lunch, will give an informal talk to the members. A large attendance is urged. The meeting is held in the Red Cross Sunday school rooms.

H.S. ASS'N RAISES OVER $100 IN SALE

Over $100 was raised by the Newmarket Home and School association at its annual spring Opportunity sale on Thursday, March 27. The entire proceeds will be used for Home and School work in the town's public schools.

The sale was well patronized, with many coming from as far away as Bradford, King City and other communities in the district. As well as good used clothing, the sale sponsored a white elephant booth which was very popular.

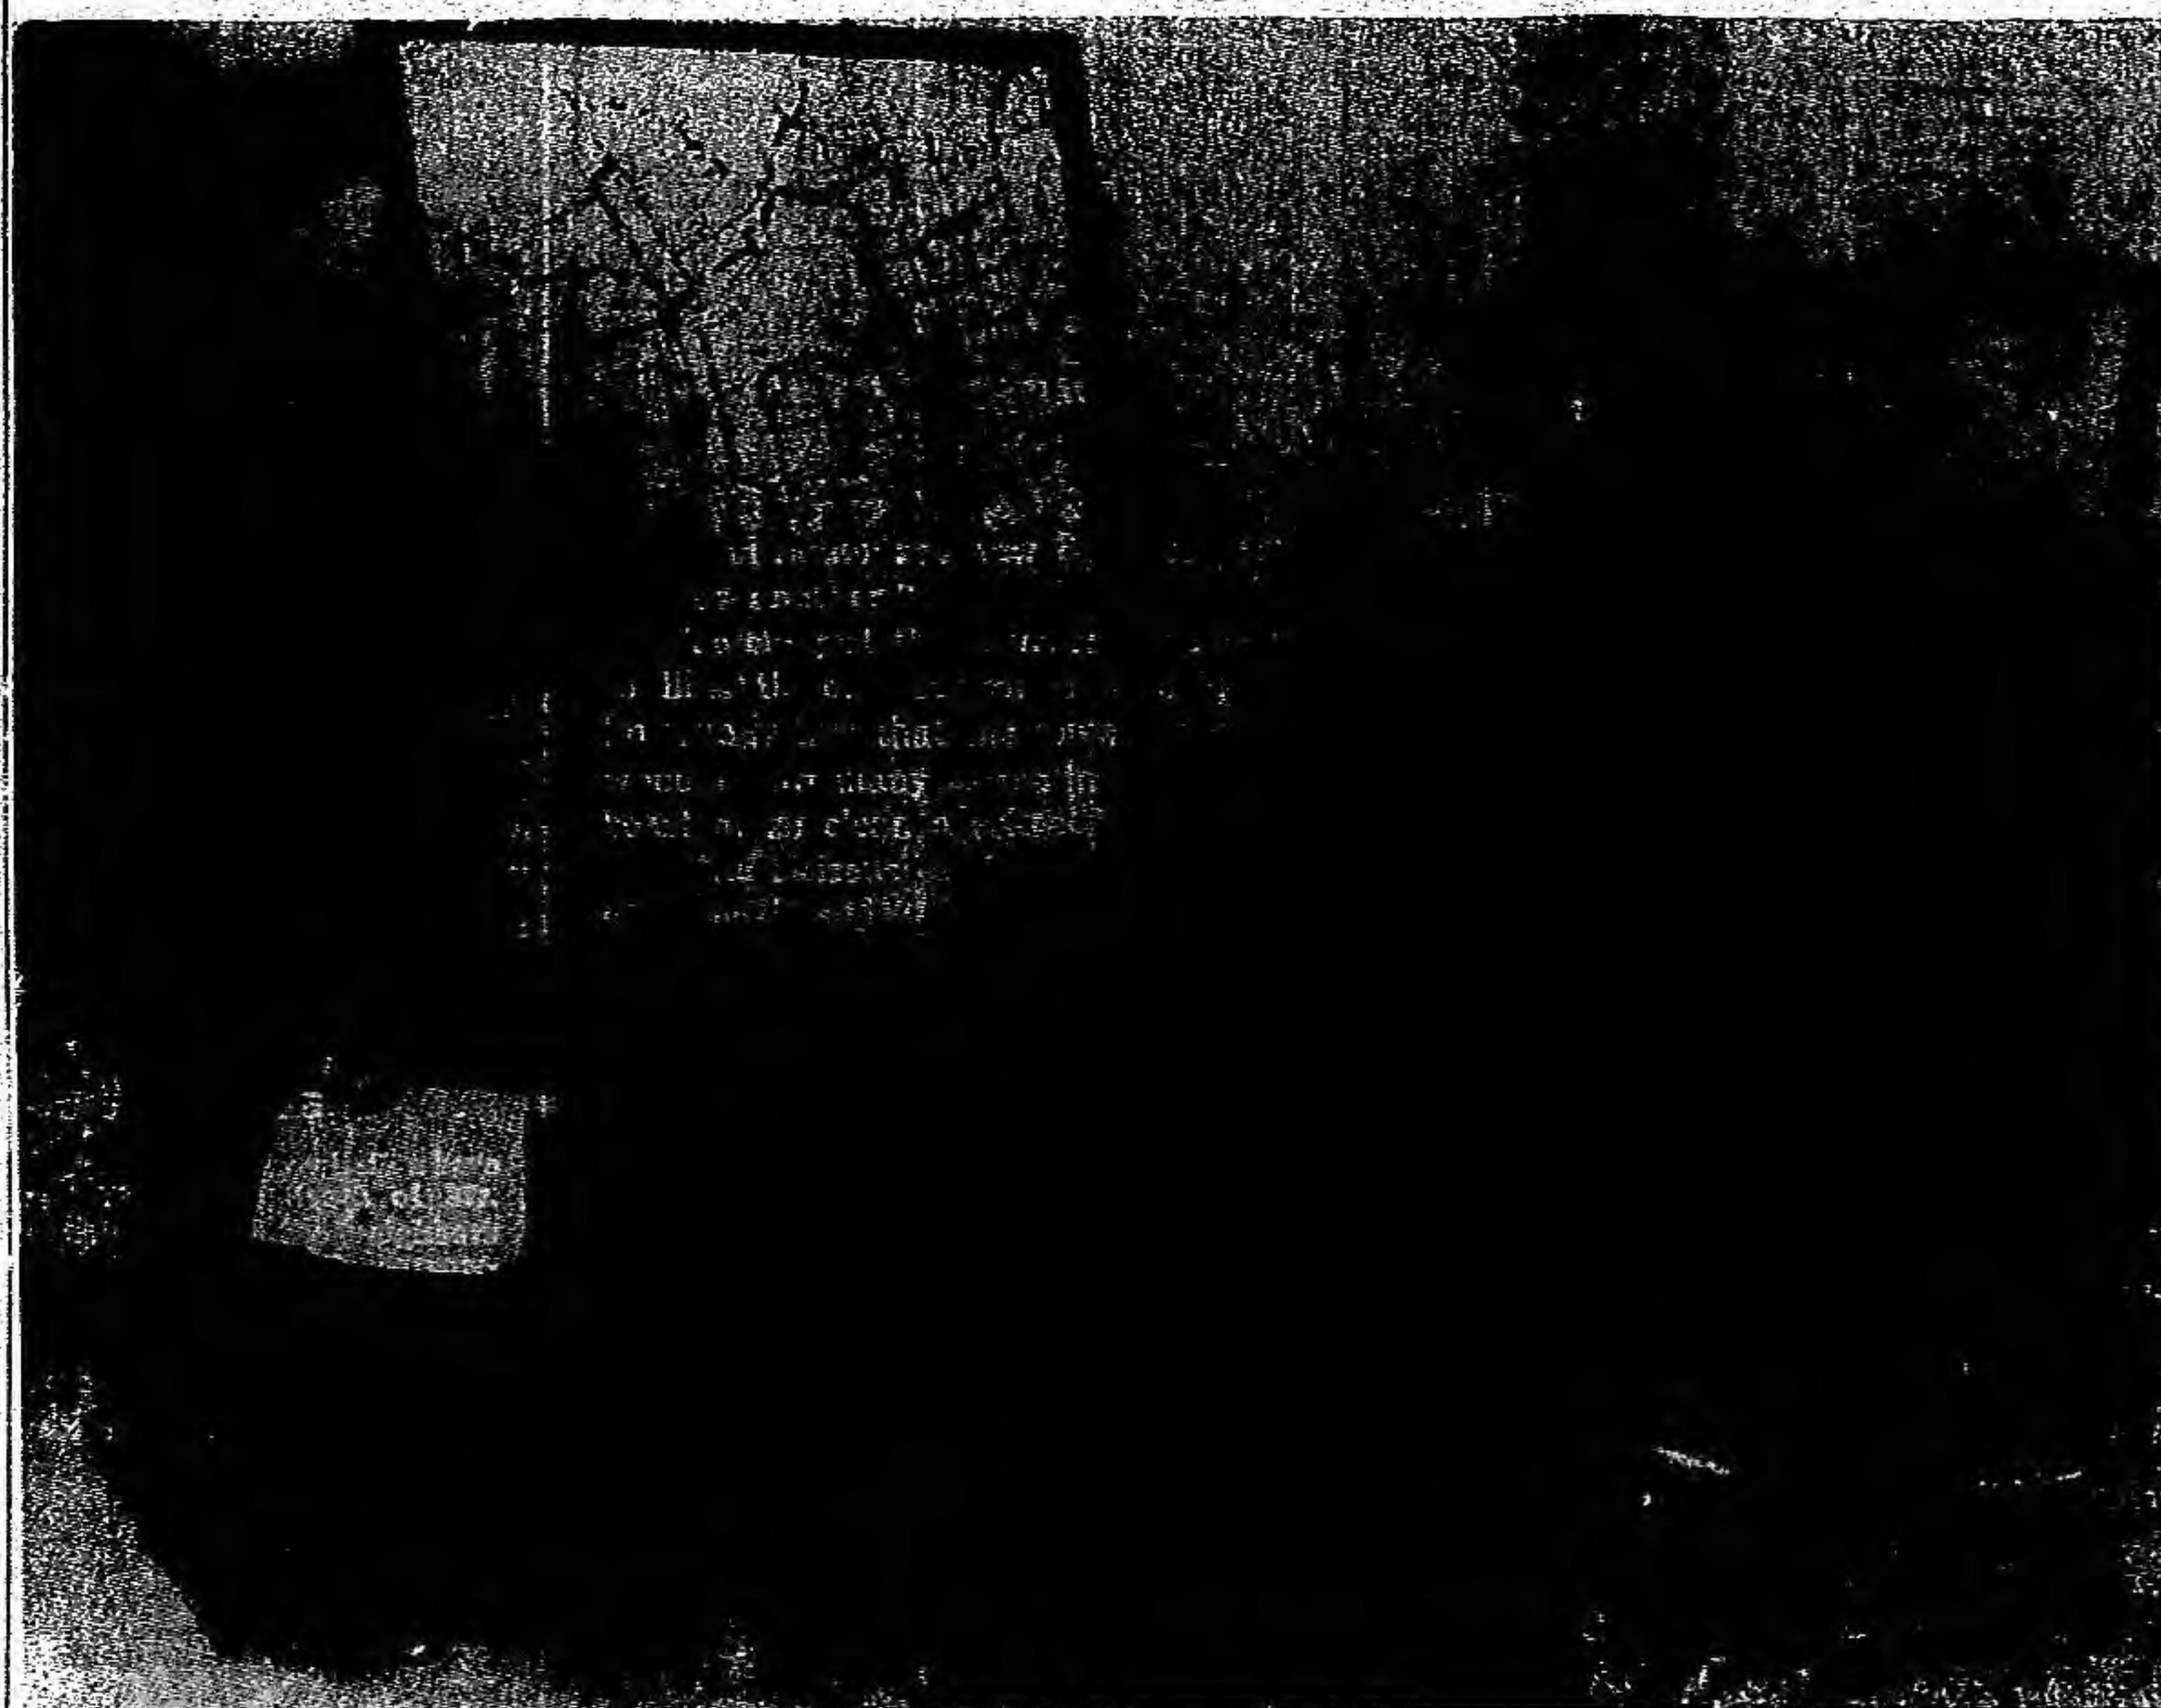

The association wishes to thank those who attended the sale, purchasing the merchandise as well as all who contributed the articles. A similar sale will be held in the fall. All homemakers are requested to put their children's outgrown clothing and other suitable articles aside for it.

FIVE HURT ON HIGHWAY

Five district persons were injured when the auto in which they were riding collided with another on Yonge St., south of Richmond Hill, early Wednesday morning. The accident occurred in the dense mist which overhung the highway. Injured were: William Hutchinson, Keswick, fractured back; Raymond Paxton, Aurora; Ivan Hills, Brownhill; Donald Schroeder, Keswick; and Harvey Link, Roche's Point.

Mrs. A. C. McKenzie, Beaver-ton, will visit the Newmarket Red Cross sewing meeting in Trinity United church on Tuesday, April 8, and after lunch will give an informal address to the members. A large attendance is requested. Mrs. McKenzie is a well known and active worker in the provincial Red Cross. She is former branch chairman and is a member of the management committee and executive committee.

The Ontario Provincial Police of No. 5 district headquarters moved into town this week and occupied their new offices at the former municipal building at the corner of Main and Botsford Sts. First equipment to be set up Monday was the police radio which controls communications in the three county district of York, Peel and Ontario. As P.C. Morris Dodd, right, talks to police cruiser by radio in the new office, P.C. Wally Gallagher moves pin representing position of a cruiser on a map of the district.

Provincial Police Move Into Headquarters At Newmarket

Headquarters of the Ontario provincial police district number five which have been in Aurora since 1947, opened new offices in Newmarket this week. The offices here are much larger than the former quarters at Aurora, taking in the ground floor of the former clerk's office, Main and Botsford Sts. and most of the rooms on the second floor.

The headquarters is an administration office, covering York, Peel and Ontario counties. Inspector Eric Hand is in charge. Although no provincial constables on highway duty work out of this office, it is a nerve centre for the three counties.

A police radio station, installed on the ground floor of the new headquarters is the central point for all communications throughout the district.

Monday was moving day for the provincials. Officers from outside detachments were on hand to help out moving files, desks, typewriters, books, guns and radio equipment from Aurora to Newmarket. The offices have brightly decorated rooms, offering pleasant working conditions for the staff.

Stationed here with Inspector Hand are Sergeants R. G. Elliott, J. J. Palmer and H. W. Howell. There are in addition, six provincial constables and two stenographers on the staff.

The town rented the offices to the police headquarters; recently council voted $15,000 toward renovations and re-decoration at the old building. Exterior decorating has not been completed yet.

The police are still in the process of getting settled, arranging for new office equipment and sorting out files. The first part of the headquarters to be set up and put into operation, of course, was the police radio.

Officers at headquarters and in cruisers say they are still in the habit of giving radio identification as "Aurora" and one desk man even answered the phone with "Ontario Provincial Police, Aurora." But they will soon get used to Newmarket as home base.

SILK, LINEN STORE TO BE OPENED SOON

A new store will be opened in a few days on Main St., Newmarket, called the Silk and Linen Shoppe. Mrs. Marie Redhead is opening the store at the corner of Main St. and Millard Ave., formerly occupied by Harry's Dry Goods.

Mrs. Redhead is well known in Main St. business. She worked for the late Tom Burke from the time he opened his store and has been employed in the same store since, under the management of Richard Senecal.

HORT. SOC. MEETING

Tonight in Trinity United church school room, an open meeting of the Newmarket Horticultural society will be held, beginning at 8 p.m. An interesting program has been arranged. Light refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

TRAILER DRIVER HAS CLOSE ESCAPE

The driver of a transport truck had a narrow escape on the Holland Landing hill on Tuesday morning. The driver, Harold Bish of Hamilton, lost control of the truck on the slippery road and skidded at the foot of the hill, running into the shoulder of the hill on the west side.

He escaped with a shaking up. A load of heavy shingles was strewn across the highway.

A vote in Aurora to determine whether liquor and beer stores will be opened there, will be held on Tuesday, May 27, as far as the Liquor Licence Board of Ontario is concerned. Aurora's town clerk, Kenneth G. Moses, informed the Era and Express yesterday of the date set by the board.

SKATING CLUB GIVES TO UNIFORM FUND, HOSPITAL AID

A meeting of the Newmarket Figure Skating Club executive was held in the Newmarket arena on Monday, Mar. 31. The financial report was read and accepted. A motion was made by Mrs. Keith Davis, to donate $50 to the Fire Brigade Uniform Fund. A motion was made by Mrs. Larry Molyneux, to donate $50 to the Hospital Aid Fund. This was passed unanimously by the committee.

An open meeting will be held at the King George school on Monday, April 7, at 8 p.m., for all parents of the figure skating club members. Nominations and election of an executive for next year will take place. Everyone is urged to attend.

TAG SATURDAY FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

The annual Easter Seal all-star radio show will be heard over CBC radio stations on Sunday, April 6, 3-4 p.m. In Newmarket, the Easter Seal campaign is being sponsored by the Lions club. The Easter Seal campaign is means used by the Ontario Society for Crippled Children to raise funds for their work.

Seals have been mailed to residents in Newmarket by the Lions with the request that the recipients will contribute in return.

Officers at headquarters and in cruisers say they are still in the habit of giving radio identification as "Aurora" and one desk man even answered the phone with "Ontario Provincial Police, Aurora." But they will soon get used to Newmarket as home base.

Contributions to the fund can be mailed to George McCullough or Bob Wench, Newmarket, or left at any of the banks.

To Make Appointment For School Trustee As Chairman Resigns

Chairman of the Newmarket public school board, Herbert Atkins, announced his resignation at a meeting of the board last night. The board is to appoint a new member by the next regular meeting in May. A new chairman is to be appointed as well.

Mr. Atkins said that he would be working in Oshawa, starting this month, and that he intended to live there permanently, necessitating his resignation from the school board post.

The board did not discuss a new appointment but the chairman said that it was customary in many city boards to appoint the defeated candidate with the highest votes in the last election in such a case. Mrs. Nelson Ion was the only other candidate in the 1952 elections.

The school board has cut its budget down by $4,000, the value of a mill on the tax rate, following a request by Town Clerk Wesley Brooks. A complaint came from Mrs. C. A. Curtis, chairman of the property committee, who said that the budget cut had all been taken from property estimates.

"Where would you suggest we make the cuts, from salaries?" asked Mr. Atkins.

"There are several ways of doing it, some from library books, music supplies and some from teachers' salaries," Mrs. Curtis said.

EXPECT LARGE TAX INCREASE FOR '52 UP TO 61-62 MILLS

Newmarket's tax rate for 1952 is rumored to be up around 61 or 62 mills, according to preliminary estimates. Efforts are being made to cut down on all estimates by council committees and the school board obliged by cutting $4,000 on its estimates last night, approximately one mill.

If the rate is settled at 61 mills, it will mean an increase of seven mills over last year's rate of 54 mills.

Town Audit Reveals 1951 Surplus $4,874

A surplus at the end of the past year of Newmarket's municipal business amounted to $4,874, according to the annual auditor's report by R. H. B. Hector at a meeting of town council Monday night.

Mayor Joseph Vale said that the figure showed a favorable situation in the town's finances but added that municipal costs have been mounting steadily.

Newmarket's general assessment for 1951 was $4,173,344 with a tax rate of 54 mills. The 1952 assessment is $4,305,400. Council committees are preparing estimates to bring down the 1952 budget which is expected to be settled at the next meeting.

Mr. Burdige's report lists 1,147 cases of speeding, 1,062 stop street infractions, although a small number of these had been withdrawn.

In his report, the police chief said, "During the period for which I have served the town of Newmarket, my policy has been to carry out police duties as humanely as possible. We take drastic action as a last resort and I feel the results obtained have been more satisfactory."

TELL HOG GROWERS BE SURE OF PRICE

A warning to hog producers to be sure that they are receiving the full benefit of the government's floor price of 26 cents a cwt. carcass weight was issued by the Ontario Hog Producers Association this week.

The association warned that the price is paid only when the hogs are delivered to the Ontario stock yards, Toronto, and does not apply when the hogs are delivered directly to the packing house. Some packers, the association warns, are not paying the full 26 cent price.

NEW OWNERS AT NEWMARKET TAXI

Norman Legge and Wilfred Needler are the new managers of Newmarket Taxi which has been operated for eight years by Larry Needler and Earley Ruthven.

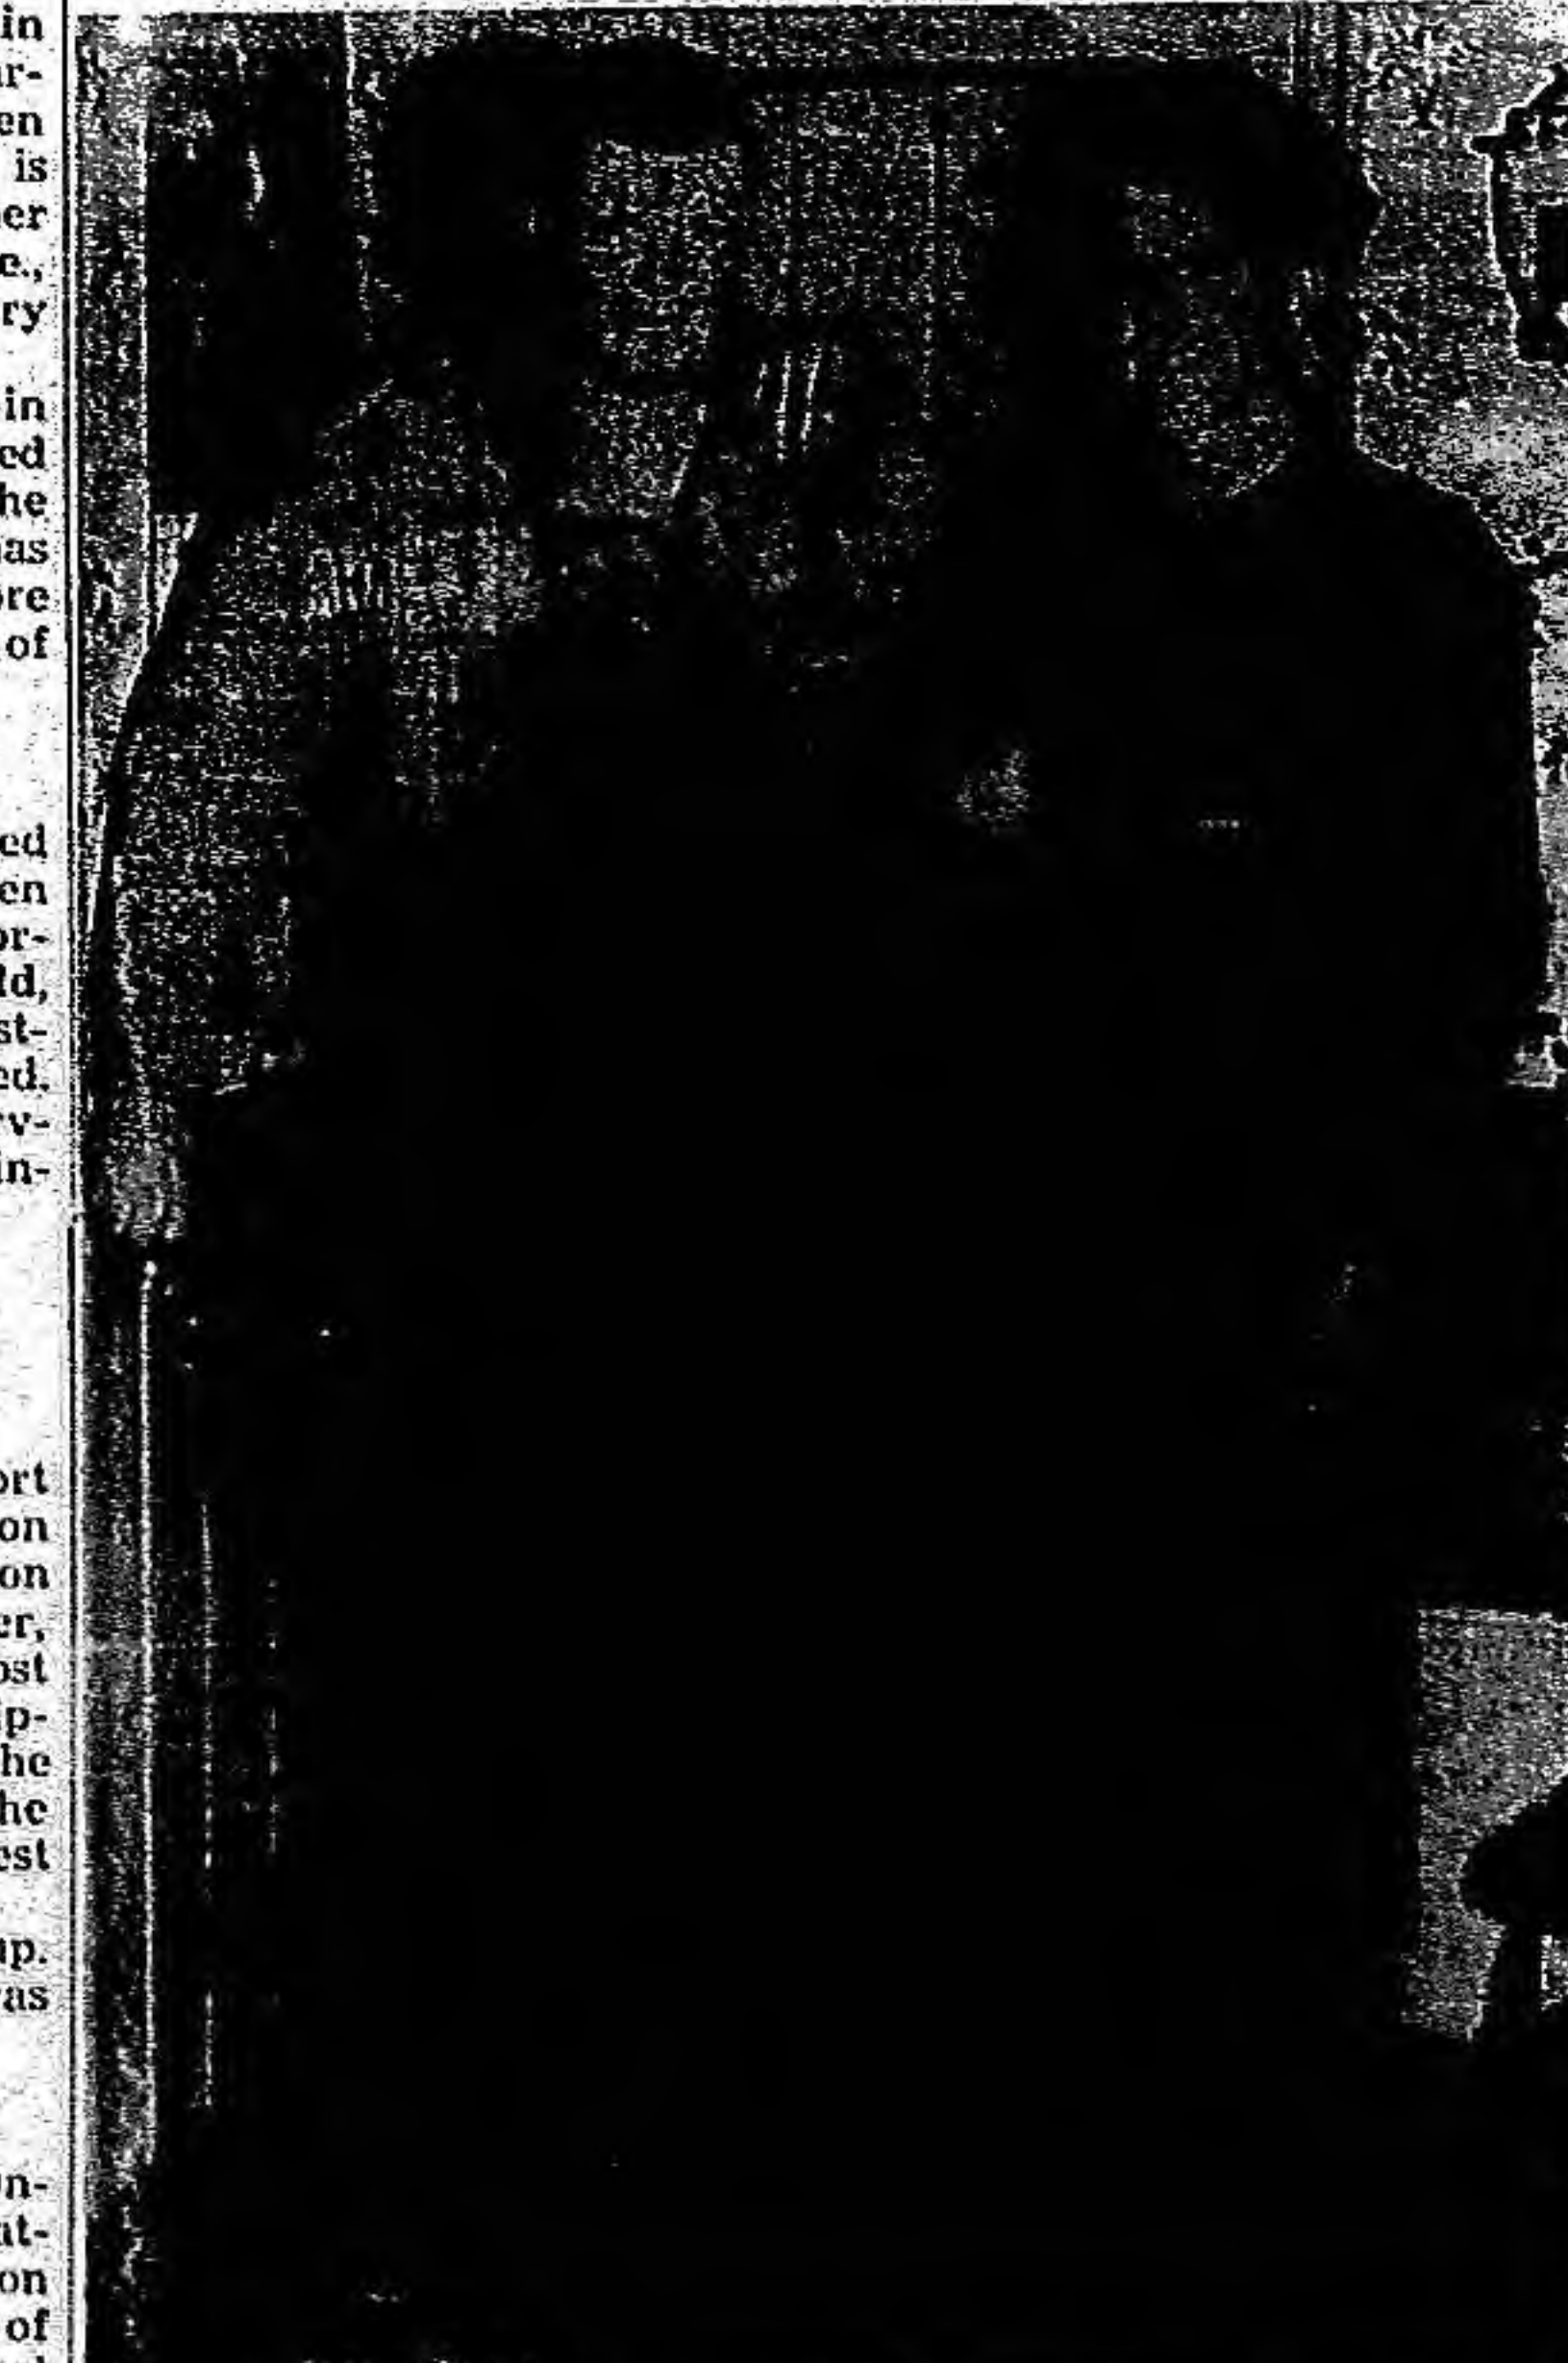

In announcing the change in ownership this week, Larry Needler said that he and Mr. Ruthven had given up the taxi business to devote more time to the Newmarket Bus Lines which operate a town bus route and school bus service.

RAISE HOSPITAL RATE

York County hospital has increased its daily rates by one dollar, effective April 1. The increase was made as a result of an operating deficit at the hospital of $15,000. Municipalities served by the hospital have also been asked to help make up the deficit in the form of grants based on the number of patients from each municipality.

GEORGINA FUNERAL

A double funeral was held on the Georgina Indian reserve last week for the two oldest Georgina Islanders, James Asquibe, 90, and Margaret Asquibe, 80. They were cousins and both died on the same day. They were both born on Georgina Island and lived most of their lives there. Mr. Asquibe had been a caretaker on Snake Island for several years until poor health overtook him.

RISE IN HOSPITAL COSTS

The York County Hospital has been fighting a losing battle in its efforts to maintain low rates in the face of rising costs. The hospital's failure is reflected in its current operating deficit of $15,000 a year. To offset this deficit, the hospital this week increased its rates by one dollar a day in each type of accommodation making a total daily rate which is still average or less for its size.

The board also asked the surrounding municipalities for grants of assistance. These grants are based on the number of patients from each municipality. If these grants are paid, it is hoped that the deficit will be removed.

How successful this request will be is open to conjecture. The alternative to these grants is a further increase in rates to individual patients. The hospital's request for the grants raises the question, one which is being raised with increasing frequency, of the extent to which a municipality should share the cost with the individual patient of hospital service.

The answer, in this instance, rests with the importance of the hospital to the district of North York. If the municipalities assist the hospital with grants, it can continue to serve the district well. If no grants are paid, and the rates are increased, the hospital's value to North York decreases accordingly.

The hospital serves a wide area, drawing its patients from at least 14 municipalities but in the past, the hospital has received grants of assistance from only Newmarket and York county, apart from provincial and federal aid. We think the hospital has a case in asking for aid from the municipalities, if only for the reason that no one municipality should help carry the others.

QUIET: RABBITS AT WORK

Reports from the vicinity of King City say that rabbits have helped cause extensive damage among new trees planted in that area. Their partners in crime were mice who are, at the height of their population cycle. We've no idea what can be done about the mice but it would certainly decrease the rabbit population if the department of game and fisheries were to lift the closed season on rabbits.

At that, it is a contradictory situation to say the least. The department of lands and forest lays out thousands of dollars for reforestation purposes and then loses most of it to damage from rabbits which enjoy the protection of another provincial department. It might help if they got together.

TORONTO PAPER IS WRONG

The Globe and Mail is bitterly critical of the proposal of the government to establish floor prices for meat. The paper bases its criticism on the department of agriculture's weekend review of livestock markets of two weeks ago in which a fairly cheerful picture was painted of light offerings and good clearings.

If the livestock picture in Canada was as painted for that one weekend, the Globe and Mail's criticism would have been sound, but that paper was either ignorant of, or ignored the build up of surplus meat which is inevitable in the next few months. The floor prices contemplated by the government and to be announced in the next few days are not so concerned with dealing with a situation which exists at this moment, but which will come to a head over the next few months.

The fact is that there is over 40 million pounds of pork in storage; that there will be a heavy spring run of pigs; that the veal run hasn't yet begun but when it does, it must compete with lowering pork prices; that spring lamb hasn't been offered yet but it too must compete with build-ups of other meats. And finally, the climax of it all, surplus meat cannot be sent over the border to the U.S.A. nor in its processed form, is there a ready market overseas.

The Globe and Mail argues that if there is surplus beef, it is because beef is being held by the growers. That is true. But why it is being held? Because the grower cannot afford to sell it at present prices; he has too much invested in it by way of original cost of animal, feed cost and labor cost. And why are prices low? Because there is a heavy surplus of pork, and a heavy potential surplus of beef, veal and lamb.

Subsidies are not desirable, to be sure. But the alternative to some form of support for the meat producer is a heavy recession of agriculture income and subsequent agriculture buying power. The latter in its turn will effect the income and production of all other industry. As it is, a floor price will do little more than maintain a minimum income for the meat producer who must still take a heavy loss over the next year or so, floor price or not.

WORK ON ROADS

The country roads a year ago were receiving their worst beating in 20 years from the spring thaws and freezeings. And while township road crews worked hard at them through the summer months, the roads were in still far from perfect condition when winter came again. Now, we are suffering from almost as bad conditions, and from a less difficult winter.

There is a moral there. Township councils practice a commendable restraint when setting up budgets, but there are times when their caution serves no useful purpose. We think that the townships generally might have spent a good deal more on the roads last summer, even if it were well over budgeted costs. If they had, we doubt if there would have been as much to do this spring, and the country people would have had the advantages in the meantime. As taxpayers, they would not have begrudged the extra expenditure.

As it is, the townships must have a heavy spring road repair bill ahead of them. If they meet the cost, and go further, if necessary, to be sure that all roads are in good shape by next winter, they'll be saving on further repairs next spring, and the country people will have something which passes as a road instead of the bogs they have had to wade through this spring.

UNWANTED BIGOTRY

This is not a pleasant story to tell but it happened in Newmarket. Some weeks ago, a highly reputable charitable organization, concerned with the care of children who are homeless because of the death of one or both parents, made enquiries about the purchase of a residence in Newmarket. If they could purchase the home, they would also need school accommodation. They enquired of the school board if there would be accommodation for 15 children. The management board discussed the matter.

A need for decision did not arise, however, because the organization was unable to purchase the home, and so would not need the school accommodation. In the meantime, a distorted version of what was happening got abroad. Instead of 15 children, the number was 50; instead of being orphans, they were delinquents and wayward children.

That in itself would not have been too bad. Exaggeration is fairly common when local news is retold. What was unfortunate was the reaction of a few to the news. They found it a disgraceful undertaking; they feared for their children should they come in contact with these so-called delinquents. Telephone calls were made during which the principal and others were roundly scolded, their judgment questioned with a vehemence completely out of proportion to the issue.

How can such intolerance be explained? What motivates such displays of bigotry? Surely there is room in Newmarket for a charity of spirit; without it, there is nothing. It is a matter for regret that even though the issue never did reach a decision that these noisy and prejudiced critics should have gone unchallenged by the board.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

On the way home the other night, I walked past the mass of rubble and brick which was once the old fire hall and registry office building. They are tearing them down, you know, to make way for a new fire hall.

Demolition always attracts curious people. The kind of people who watch big diggings, construction work or demolition work usually have fertile minds; they're dreamers, philosophers or those who might have been great engineers but who, through some quirk of life, got sidetracked into the wrong occupation.

I watched a workman thrust a crowbar into a brick wall and tons of mortar and rubble crashed over the side of the foundation.

I noticed a large chunk of old stone or marble lying in a heap of broken brick on the floor. Jus' then, Tom, a friend, came over and looked at it too. He kicked it with his foot.

"Looks like the Stone of Scorne or something," I said.

"Yeah, it has a historic air about it," Tom agreed. "Maybe it was hewn by hand by Sam Lount," I said.

There was an old boot under the floor boards too. "Maybe that old boot there belonged to William Lyon Mackenzie, you never know," said Tom. "They say he slept in these parts."

"Sh!" I said, looking around over both shoulders. "I've often heard that there was a lot of Family Compact support in this district. After all they hung Lount and he was around here too. You never know how these feelings last, down through the centuries."

"Take that fellow over on the street corner. He looks like he would resist reform," I whispered.

"Maybe you're right, said Tom. "Anyway that stone looks pretty historic like."

"Maybe we should bring it to the attention of the mayor, or the historical society, if there is one," I suggested. "They might be interested. They could have it examined and declare it historical," Tom mused.

"And it could be laid as a cornerstone to some new building," I said in a burst of inspiration.

"Have a little ceremony and invite the neighboring municipalities, all the old prominent families, and the press of course," Tom said.

"You know, that stone looks more like a mill stone than anything else," I said. "Or maybe some old pioneer wife ground corn on it, somebody like Laura Secord."

"I don't know that she ever married," Tom said, trying to make things technical. "Anyway, we could always declare that it was historical, whether it was or not. It looks old enough."

Just then Slim Bliggins came along and overheard Tom, said, "The whole thing is that it's been found in the wrong place to be historical enough. To promote a good historical item, you've got to find it in an historical place."

"Now, if we was to bury it by the creek, back of the water works, in secret and then dig it up with great fanfare as an old mill stone, nobody'd know the difference," Slim advised. "As it is here, it's no good. This here building ain't old enough to breed history. Now if yer interested in a good promotin' job, I could put it over on the local culture groups."

We thought it over for a while, each, silently.

"No, I said, you can't tamper with the facts of history. It isn't right," I finally concluded.

"Yeah, guess yer right," said Slim. "History's like hard cider. History's gotta age right and fer long enough, to be any good, that is."

from the Rural Scene Fighting Inflation

In times of prosperity we all develop spending habits that, in other times, we would have considered extravagant. When times get hard with us, we sometimes find it necessary to change our habits; and he is a happy man who can do so.

I talked the other day with a friend who, I believe, sleeps every night in the shirt of a happy man.

He is happy because he feels that he is doing his bit in the most serious fight in which this country is engaged — the fight against inflation. He is doing it without waiting for the government to do its part, or other people to do theirs; and he is getting results, real tangible results in dollars and cents.

Here is his story: His doctor has told him that his working days are definitely over. He and his wife are living on a fixed income, which has not been increased since the war.

Five years ago that income was X dollars a year. They lived on it quite comfortably; but they needed it all, or thought they did; and they did not consider themselves extravagant. Their income is still X dollars a year, and they still live on it.

But living costs have risen considerably during these five years, and the time came when he and his wife realized they would have to do something about it. Unable to increase their income they turned their attention to their outlay.

They were surprised to find how extravagance had gradually crept up on them and how many unnecessary expenditures they were making.

The things they decided they could do without all proved to be unnecessary to either their health, or their happiness. No tobacco, no liquor or pop, fewer shows, fewer expensive foods and more of the simpler cheaper ones, fewer fashionable clothes and better care of those they have, fewer of the latest high-priced books and more reading of the ones that have stood the test of time, and are found on most people's bookshelves.

Now, after five years of steadily rising prices, they find that their total living costs are slightly less than they were at the beginning of the period. They have actually saved a little money.

My friend and his wife are both convinced that half the battle against inflation is entirely in the hands of the people as individuals; and that if we would all do our bit the government would take its cue from us and do its bit also.

There is no mastery so satisfying as the mastery of one's own habits and one's own affairs.

type of pipe. It's a pipe of clay, but it's not Vitrified Clay Pipe.
It took Vitrified Clay Pipe to transform his primitive way of civilization.

Today's communities depend upon sewerage systems built of Vitrified Clay Pipe. Miles and miles of it are needed to keep our Perfectly by modern methods of Vitrified Clay Pipe provides the

Newmarket Parents Evolve Child Code

When parents and children can meet and discuss problems of common interest, a step toward better parent-child relationships has been taken. A code or pattern for handling future difficulties can be drawn up. Beyond this listing of desirable conduct for both adults and youth, a bond is fashioned, which will help to bridge the ever-existing gulf between the two generations.
An experiment along these lines was carried out in Newmarket recently under the sponsorship of the Newmarket Home and School Association. Parents of children attending the public schools in town met to discuss phases of day-to-day living, the way they affected their families and their ideas regarding them.
Such questions as movies, radio, allowances and church, as well as many others, were discussed by the adults. Similar questions were discussed in the class rooms by the pupils in grades seven and eight. Their teachers brought the ideas of these groups to the meeting.

There was general agreement in all groups of parents, teachers and children regarding the various questions. Some included additional ideas in their findings.
In compiling these agreements a code for parents and children has been constituted.

Parties and Hours
Social events should be held on weekends or on festive occasions

CIVIL SERVICE ASS'N HAS SOCIAL NIGHT

On Thursday evening, March 27, the Civil Service Association held their monthly social evening at the Ontario Hospital, Aurora, in the form of a card party. The attendance was good, and the evening was enjoyed by all. The prizes for eucure were won as follows: ladies, Mrs. P. Hughey, Mrs. D.
Bennish, Mrs. Atkins; men's
Mr. T. Smith, Mr. D. Strang, Mr.
A. Leith.
The draw prize, a basket of groceries, was won by P.
Hughey. A light lunch was served. Jerry Hoare, chairman of the social entertainment committee is to be congratulated, along with his committee, for the success of these social get-togethers.

TEACHERS MEET FOR CHILD STUDY

To continue study of Gisel's book on child psychology, the Newmarket public school lady teachers met on Wednesday, Mar. 12, in the King George school.

A resume of the chapter, "The Child from Birth to Four Years," was most capably given by Mrs.
Berger, indexing the cycle of human development.

As outlined by Gisel, all growth is based on previous growth. Birth marks the beginning of the individual. The shape of behavior to come is profoundly foreshadowed.

Southern Indian, a little-heard-of lake, is the fourth largest in Manitoba.

and limited to one or two a month. They should end by 10.30, and all parties should be supervised without being dominated.
Preference was shown for house parties, to include active games in which all could participate.

Radio
Radio and study periods don't mix. There should be a time for study and a time for listening to the radio. Selection of programs should be supervised by adults.
Unwise for a child to have a radio in his own room.

Motion Pictures Attendance at movies should not exceed once a week, preferably on Friday evening or Saturday. Poor weekend pictures justify a through-the-week early showing as the occasional practice. Parents should supervise child's selection of movies. Considered wise for adults to encourage child's participation in sports, hobbies or a club to replace habit of regular show attendance.

Church
Regular attendance at church and Sunday school is the aim, with parents' example of church attendance, support and interest in the work of the church as the encouragement for the child.

Sports and Clubs
Children should be discouraged from becoming "joiners". Loyalty to a group, important character training, received in belonging to one group in which child's interest lies, rather than in being a member in an assortment of clubs in name only.

Skills and Hobbies
Every child should have a hobby. Encouragement and help as needed are his right to expect from the adults in his life.
Through such encouragement the hobby may develop skills.

School Attendance
A child should be taught early in life the value of being in school every day, and every day on time. Illness and emergencies were considered the only excuses for absence from school. Time taken from school for the promotion of one of the arts was justified if the child maintained his regular work, because it was considered but another phase of his education. Responsibility for promptness and regularity at school rested 80 percent with parents and 10 percent with children.

Homework Complete co-operation between teacher, parent and child, with as little homework as possible to allow for other educational and social developments. When homework assigned, parents' responsibility to encourage child in the work. Try to supervise to see that work which a child needs most is practiced rather than set aside.

Social Development
Parents should encourage children to bring their friends home with them. Parents and teachers should help children to learn social graces and ability to fit into strange surroundings. Adults should set an example by their behaviour of appreciating the rights of others.
Profanity and Falsifying
Parents should set example

GIDEONS SPEAK IN LOCAL CHURCHES

The Newmarket Gideon Association met on Monday, Mar. 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Welly Stevens, Sharon. Mrs.
Stevens, the president, was in the chair.
Reports were received from members concerning Testament distribution in schools. Newmarket and Aurora have been visited lately. The chief business was the arranging of Gid-con services in 22 churches throughout the district on Sunday, March 30. Gideons spoke in each of these services. It was gratifying to learn of the hearty support given the association by the various denominations of the

Allen Cup Sched. Ends

This Saturday's twin-bill winds up the regular schedule in the Aurora Allen Cup pee-wee hunt. Last Saturday Leafs, benefitting from shut-out shot-blocking by Wayne Zimmerman and a three-goal scoring spurt by busy bee Don Glass, shut out Chicago 3-0. Busy hockey laddie Don Glass took help from Hughie Hammond and Bill Boaks on his scoring safaris.

In the other game, Detroit and Canadiens whipped through 60 minutes of speedy action to a 1-all deadlock. Larry Sutton, with side help from Ross Quantz, connected for the Detroit marker. Harold Bunn was the Canadiens' successful sniper.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson
This is the second in a series of three columns dealing with lesser-known incidents in Stanley Cup history.

A popular belief persisting to this day, is that Lord Stanley of Preston, 16th Earl of Derby, while Governor-General of Canada, 1888-1893, became so intrigued with the speed and color of Canadian hockey, that in a burst of enthusiasm he offered the cup which now bears his name.

Much as we regret to shatter a sports illusion, such was not the case. Lord Stanley wasn't a great hockey fan. His interest in the game was academic and detached. He donated the cup around which there has been such colorful battling for well over half a century at the urging of Lord Kilgour, one of his staff and one of Lord Stanley's A.D.C.'s, and possibly, too, because of the enthusiasm of his own son, Hon. Arthur Stanley, who not only admired hockey, but played it. And by the late P. D. Ross, Ottawa publisher, who had played for McGill.

The Stanley Cup was donated in 1892. At a banquet on March 18 of that year, celebrating the success of the Ottawa team of the era, responding to a toast to the Governor-General, Lord Kilgour read a letter from His Excellency which said: "I have for some time been thinking that it would be a good thing if there were a challenge cup which should be held from year to year by the champion hockey team in the Dominion. There does not appear to be any such outward and visible sign of championship at present, and considering the general interest which the matches now elicit, and the importance of having the game played fairly and under rules generally recognized, I am willing to give a cup which shall be held from year to year by the winning team."

Lord Kilgour stated that Capt. Colville, who was then in England, had been commissioned by the Governor-General to order the cup, to be held by the trustees until the end of the next season, and then presented to the champions.

The Governor-General appointed Sheriff Sweetland of Ottawa and P. D. Ross trustees of the cup.

That there was keen interest in hockey in Lord Stanley's immediate circles is, of course, obvious. Mr. Ross, with some Ottawa men, Lord Cavan, and The Hon. Arthur Stanley, formed what was called the Rebel Hockey Club, whose members played in red shirts and engaged in exhibition matches with other teams. Lord Cavan, who was the 10th Earl of Cavan, commanded the British forces in Italy during the first World War, and subsequently was commander-in-chief of the British army in 1921. The Rebels played the best teams of their time, and the picturesque organization doubtless aided in spreading the gospel of hockey. And aided, too, in securing the Stanley Cup, now the most prized of all hockey trophies.

Next week: Death Wasn't Alone.

Aurora Ousts Newmarket

There's always somebody around to take the joy out of life. Newmarket Redmen, town league all-stars, figured to bring home the North York championship, Bush League variety, without too much difficulty. Their calculations were all wet. In fact, after Aurora Tigers moved in here last Thursday and defeated our stalwarts 6-3, the Redmen won't even be invited to the finals. It will be Woodbridge and Aurora.

Newmarket plans Thursday to keep alive play-off hopes were k.o.'ed by Bill Kingdon. It was Kingdon's goal with just over two minutes to play that broke up a 5-all deadlock and gave Aurora the game. Eveready Mickey Sutton was on the job to put the puck on Kingdon's stick for the kill-shot.

First period goals by Dave Richardson and Harry Sutton—Ken Thoms counterpunched for the Redmen — gave the Aurora invaders a 2-1 first period lead. The teams jammed a lot of action into the middle session but couldn't break into the scoring column.

The teams forgot all about defensive duties in the third as they hustled around getting goals. In the tit for tat scoring show, teams shared equally an 8-goal scoring flurry. Stan Gibbons, Harold Gwyn, Basher Groves and Dave Couch pounded in the Newmarket tallies. Eugene Rose, Harold Stephenson, Ted Sutton and Bill Kingdon laced in the Aurora markers.

Aurora: F. Southwood, M. Sutton, E. MacDonald, G. Dawson, D. Richardson, W. Kingdon, H. Sutton, T. Sutton, E. Rose, B. Rose, H. Timbers, H. Stephenson, T. Barrager.

Newmarket: W. Ingram, B. Groves, H. Gwyn, D. Couch, J. Staley, B. Pearson, K. Thoms, S. Gibbons, A. Lloyd.

Maroons Lose First Semi

King-Vaughan puck-chasers cracked open their semi-final oyster Friday. And the winners were Nobleton and Kleinburg. In the early game, the dashing Kleinburg Greenhirts smothered Bruce Hall's King City Maroons 6-2. The Greenhirts opened with a snappy three-goal first period and climaxed their win with a similar show of scoring power in the finale.

The bustling Maroons didn't get percolating until the third period—then it was too late—but they did sink two goals to let Kleinburg realize they'd been in a hockey game. Loring Doolittle, fresh as a grapefruit from the south and performing as if the old rocking chair would never get him, rapped in King's first tally, accepting aid from Merv McQuarrie. Alan Dowbiggin did the necessary on Maroon's number two.

"We'll tie it this Friday or bust," says mentor Hall. Harry Lostchuk was Kleinburg's big gunner with three. Murray Hilliard and Bill Roe connected for two each while Walt Bell got into the scoring summary via a singleton.

Eighteen penalties, including a match misconduct to King's Jimmy Patton, kept the penalty timers busy ticking off the minutes.

In the nightcap, Nobleton, season long leaders, made the right start in the semi-finals by embalming Bolton 8-6. Trailing 5-3 going into the third, Nobleton all but chased the Bolton

Cubs Floor Lions

Spearheaded by Danny Patrick's five-goal scoring spree, Bill Mundell's Aurora Cubs spilled Schomberg Lions 11-2 at Nobleton arena Saturday in an exhibition bantam contest. Once that up and coming young hockey man, Mr. Patrick, got into high gear, the Lions didn't have a look in. Charles Vrana with two, Bert Loveless, Herb McKenzie, Ron Egan and Bill Egan with one each completed the Aurora scoring picture. Freddie Davis and Don Coberg netted the Schomberg goals.

North York Ball Loop

The organization meeting of the North York Softball League was held at Fred Morris' store, Langstaff, Sunday. Three teams, Lansing, Richmond Hill and Langstaff, were represented and indicated they were ready to enter teams in the league race. Thornhill and King City were mentioned as possible entries.

"We're holding the entry list open for another week," reports league proxy Fred Morris. "We're anxious to see Newmarket and Aurora come in." If they're interested, please contact Charles Ryan, Sheppard & Gill Lumber Co., Richmond Hill, this week.

Sutton Defeats Bolton

Ellis Pringle and his Sutton Greenhirts took up squatters' rights again in Memorial Arena Monday with Bolton supplying the opposition in a O.R.H.A. semi-final contest. The Green-shirts eased out a 6-5 overtime win before some 900 odd fans.

Pringle and his charges should be sued for giving their disciples the willies. The Pringlemen took just 69 minutes and 35 seconds before they decided it was time to brush off Bolton. And the hero of it all was Geo. Holborn. It was George who put away the tie breaker and game winner with just 25 seconds of the overtime period remaining. John Learoyd was the lad who supplied the relay.

In the regulation time, it was Skip Taylor who got the Green-shirts out of hock. Bolton led 5-4 with just under two minutes to go. Lightning fast Skipper got loose around his own blue-line, headed up into Bolton territory, and let fly from the side for the tying goal and forcing overtime.

Bolton had Sutton on the run in the first period. They picked up a 4-1 margin over the Green-shirts on goals by Ron Wilson, Ted Derbyshire, Jack Gibson and Harvey Wallace. Keith Dunn whistled one from the blue-line for the Sutton tally.

Greenshirts got back into the game with a 3-goal production in the middle round as they out-scored Bolton 3-1. John Learoyd fired two goals, Geo. Holborn one. Harry Lostchuk was the Bolton triggerman. That gave Bolton a 5-4 edge going into the third, forcing Skip Taylor to come through with his late goal as aforesaid.

Second game in the best two out of three series will be played at Nobleton arena.

There was one advantage to the old style wall telephones. The gals had to stop talking when their legs gave out.

Newmarket and District stars, Redmen by name, visited Nobleton last Wednesday for a reef at the Hastings - Taylor - Breckon King-Vaughan stars in a North York championship series game. The Redmen came home on the short end of a 10-9 count.

After seeing the King-Vaughan skaters put over a 4-2 first period lead, Redmen went active and ran in six goals in the middle session for an 8-5 majority.

Barney Pearson and Stan Gibbons got three apiece for the Redmen. H. Gwyn picked up two and Mottis Thoms one. Jimmy Patton got a hat trick for King-Vaughan. Ken Ham stoked the first with two while Ross Follitt, Walt Bell, Jack Greigg, Don Marchant and Harry Lostchuk got a goal each.

School Loop Finalists

Stanley cup battles were put in the shade by the school league semis herabout last week. Semis are being settled on a two-game, goals to count, basis. Squirt sector winners: Marlboros and Biltmores. Marlies humbled Flyers 8-5 on the round, Biltis put the Rockets to bed 7-2.

Pee-wee division survivors were Hornets and Bears. Hornets overpowered Bisons 8-3 in their two-game set. Bears and Barons went over par in their saw-off, requiring three games to produce a winner. Game one was 2-2, game two 1-1. Bears got cracking in game three to roll up a 4-0 majority to take the round 7-3.

In the semi-final scoring, Dave McComb five, John Hodge two and Larry Tunney one, provided the Marlies winning scoring punch. Larry Bone counted all five Flyer tallies.

Biltis' win over Rockets was engineered via Wayne Crouch's four and single sniping efforts by Michael Smith, Ken Needler and Bill McComb. Stick-handling whizzer Reg. Peterson pounded home a goal a game for the vanquished Rockets.

Town Softballers

Softball on its way. Town League organized Tuesday. Very excellent turn out of enthusiasts to see the job got started right. Retiring secretary-treasurer Harold LaPlante brought down his budget for last year and it showed a healthy state of affairs with $73.89 on hand to start the season away.

Next on the agenda was the election of officers for the 1952 season. Prime softball booster Mickey Smith was named president, Bruce Andrews, vice-president and Bert Kent assumes the duties of secretary-treasurer. In accepting the job, prexy Smith sounded the keynote for this season: "If we all pitch in, we'll have a banner season."

Entries were called for. Office Specialty and Bell Telephone threw in their hats without further ado. Hoffman's were not represented but it was thought likely they'd return. It was thought probable Triple Sevens would be back, also Ray Smith's Sports and Cycle Men and a sixth team was said to be in the offing. Anyhow, the entry pot is open and the executive will meet in the near future for further discussions of rules.

They Died With Their Boots On

The fans who expected Eddie Bush's Collingwood Green-shirts to paste the Aurora Bears received the shock of their lives on Friday and Saturday last. The underrated Aurora kids lost 5-1 at Aurora but on the play 5-3 would have been an adequate score as Aurora outshot and outlasted Collingwood.

Two goals were the direct result of the Aurora defence blocking Rhodes and the others were the direct result of penalties and the finesses of the power line of Frank Dance, Bob Morrill and Jim Barrett. Take that trio away, and the clubs were at least even. In Collingwood, down 4-1 at the end of the first period, the Bears still had a double edge in the shots on goal and finally went for three in the third as the Shirts got one. It was only hard luck that kept the champs from seeing a tie, nay, a loss. The Bears covered themselves with glory in their final regular effort. It was the old story of a good big man beating a good little man.

We were happy to see the Bears roll the way they did, and prove that they were a credit to their coach, manager and town. We'll review the whole season in the not too distant future, but frankly, the Bears exceeded the expectation of all but the most rabid supporters. Over the year they played 39 games, winning 24 and losing 15. Collingwood accounted for five and the All-Stars one so the record in competition is not too bad.

Biggest handicaps, as we see the season, were: 1 Seeking "D" rating. That way they lost the right to imports, and were satisfied with lower calibre players to start; 2 The loss of Joe Burke in the nets. Burke was the best of the lot and was coming strong when he was forced out by ill health. Wally Rhodes, who finished the season, couldn't be blamed in the Collingwood series, and did well for the protection received. After all, he hadn't played better than midget before joining Aurora; 3 The injury to Don Egan didn't help as the game Aurora had was looking good and improving every game when he broke his collar bone. Rejoining the club, he was out of condition, and hadn't kept pace in form with the rest of the players; 4 Internal dissension at various stages, that disappeared on end but didn't help out in moulding the club earlier.

Exhibition hockey may be tried and if so there'll be a game on Friday. The present plans call for trials for new players with "Buster" Brown, Whitby netminder, Bob Wilford of Hespeler, John Woods of Nobleton, Wayne Robinson of Newmarket, Bob Veale of Bradford, Bill Lott of Bradford and one or two more likely to be seen in action. Kelt Collings, Elmo Phillips, Grant Winters and Chris Wansborough hang up their junior sticks this season. Biggest job will be to try and retain Andy Closs and Bobby Forhan. It seems too bad to let homegrown talent depart and have to bring imports to replace them. We hope there's a solution close at hand.

Bunny White, formerly of Richmond Hill, brother of Eric and Al, is the chief scout in these parts for the Chicago Blackhawks. He has his eyes on a couple of the Aurora Bears and one of the Newmarket juvenile club. The lads, however, weren't invited to the school at Galt as the Bears were still going then. His son, who played for Weston Ducks last winter, was with Galt this year.

Collings For College Try

No one, least of all your Hashman, will deny you have to dunk the biscuit to win hockey games. Still, there's more to winning hockey games than just that. Aurora Bears, all will agree, kicked in with a good year. Their paw-holders got their money's worth - and the Bears reached the semi-finals. Good show all around.

At the outset, Bear shooters named Keith "Keto" Collings spokesman and captain. A wise choice as events proved. Keith was near the top of the scoring list but actually his star shone brightest as a leader. When things looked gloomiest - when chins drooped - Collings rallied his buddies with the admonition "come on gang - let's get in there and fight", and usually that was all that was needed.

That means a lot - it doesn't appear in any statistics - but it's as important as all get out and necessary to provide a winning combination. Therefore, it's a distinct pleasure to scrap our weekly scoring statistics and name Keith Collings as Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass winner this week - "for good old college try".

What's up with those mushballers around Aurora and Newmarket? It's Freddie Morris, Langstaff's perennial softball booster, asking. Frederick hints that softball flocks hereabouts have gone chicken, otherwise they'd be in the North York softball league whirl.

Do we organize and give the Staffers and Hillers an answer on the diamond or forever hang our heads in shame? The decision is yours! Can't waste too much time, though. Freddie and company want an answer double quick. King City may be a party to the North York League this year. "Give us a pitcher," reports Bruce Hall, King's evergreen softball-hockey man, "and we're in".

Ross Chapman writes: "Tell the Simcoe teams to get on their marks. Meeting in a couple of weeks." Scare for Morley Bain, Ches. Lunney and Zephyr company: Ron Kester has retired - baseball henceforth. More bait for the fishes. Softball phooey, says Percy Richmond and Art King. "Going fishing this year - no Keswick team." Cry has gone up again to watch the Mounties - Ken "Red" Mitchell will be back in flinging form - Ross Draper receiving.

Baseball harbingers: intermediate baseballers launched their campaign to revive big diamond sport last week. Hope to enter South Simcoe circuit. Election of officers at next meeting. Hack Cain mentioned as possible playing coach. Ted Robinson, ex-baseball chucker, manager.

Spring rhubarb: Ellis Pringle and the green-sweated Suttonites are on the O.R.H.A. merry-go-round again. Remember last year? They planted Markham recently and supposedly headed into the Ontario finals. What happens? Bolton protested by Beeton and moved up into senior. So the Greenshirts go round again before the brass ring comes up. How often does this go on, asks coach Pringle? Your guess is as good as the next one.

Think the O.R.H.A. could save themselves a crop of headaches and a bin full of aspirins by chucking out some of the inelible and offending sides instead Ladies lose first. Aurora ladies entertained Georgetown at the Aurora Arena Tuesday. It was the opening game of a best two out of three O.L.H.A. (Ont. Ladies Hockey Association) semi-final series. When and if they start handing out points for being close, the Aurora gals can put in a claim for a hurdle after Tuesday's game. They dropped an ever so tough decision to Georgetown 1-0.

Georgetown's Loretta Zilio scored early in the first period and that was it for the night. Aurora earned a big E for effort but couldn't beg, borrow or steal the tie-up goal. Second game in the series will be played in the Aurora arena next Tuesday at 8 p.m. Winner of the set goes against Gord's Snack Bar, East York, for the Ontario title.

Howard Buscombe, master of Manor Hill farm, reports a fine colt by Golden Saxon out of Long Night. It's the second bloodlined colt within a month. Junior West, who was the standout for Orono against Aurora two years ago, and last year went to Lindsay to play, is one of the best players on the Peterborough Pates who are currently in the senior "B" play-offs against Stouffville Clippers. The winner of this series meets Lyndhurst Motors of Toronto, the semis white Sarnia, Dundas, Burlington, Woodstock and Port Colborne are left in the West. We'll call Stouffville and Port Colborne for the final round. Jim Webb, former Bradford lacrosse and hockeyist, is the president of the new Bradford Rotary club.

Spittires, 'tis said, will cut around $110 apiece for their season's efforts which is somewhat below what the boys had expected. That doesn't include the party to come or presentation. Al Shewchuk is reported to have drawn over a grand as playing coach. Rumor has it that he'll be with Collingwood next winter. The Shipbuilders didn't appear to need either help at the blue-line or coaching box. Still the rumor comes from a reliable source. Joint McComb made a hit at Owen Sound and is reported as ready to move there. He has a good job, and this plus the hockey bonus per week is as good tariff as the A.H.L. provides, and double income tax cut too.

Bradford will be back with a strong lacrosse club this year and they hope to add some of the Alliston players. The quartet from the north who played for Alliston last year will be in action with the Orillia club, making a start in senior B this year after an absence from lacrosse of five or six years.

Bears Lose To Collingwood

"The Bears put up a good scrap—I'm proud of them—difference was Collingwood had experience." Thus did Coach Charlie Rowntree sum up Bear's 5-1 loss to Collingwood Green-shirts in a junior C semi-final in the Aurora Arena Friday.

Bears outgunned the Green-shirts 30-32 but were frustrated by net-minder Don Hudson. Bears got by only once and Bob Forhan put that one by. It was a typical Forhan effort—a dig in the corner—a slide-step and whango, it was in the Collingwood corral. That goal came early in the third with the Green-shirts totalling behind a 4-0 majority.

Penalties will kill you, 'tis said. They had much to do with the Bears' embarrassing. Keith Collings was whisked away for interference and the Greenshirts broke the scoring ice via sniper Don Pollard. Sides were even and Jim Barrett's scoring blast gave invaders a 2-0 edge. Grant Winters took a holding sentence at 5:38 of the middle round. Winters proceeded to overstate his case to referee Eddie Hodgson and away he goes for ten-minute stay in the sin bin.

Collingwood immediately turned their manpower advantage into goal three. Shoe was on the other foot as Greenshirts hit for number four. Bears were gangling and Bush tribe was a man short when Alan Morrill came out of a blue-line jam session to beat a path to Rhodes' cord cupboard. Production man on Collingwood's fifth—it came after Forhan contracted for Bear's one and only—was Barrett—again with Collingwood a man short.

Bears season ended Saturday night in Collingwood as they dropped a close 5-4 decision. In defeat, the Bears were great—they went out in a blaze of glory. Greenshirts capitalized early on Baseballers Get Away. First steps towards providing Newmarket with an intermediate baseball (hardball) team were taken at an organization meeting last Wednesday in the town hall. Some 15 would-be-players and boosters attended. Talent to provide a strong club was available, it was indicated, with approximately 20 players mentioned as possible candidates. Present plan is to seek membership in the South Simcoe Baseball League. Fate of this quest should be known within the next week or ten days.

If the league accepts a Newmarket entry, probable opposition would come from Bradford, Beeton and Alliston. Discussion covered sponsorship of the team and the baseball boosters are checking on this point. Several town and ex-baseball players are being approached to act in an executive capacity and as soon as the results of these queries are known, a further meeting will be called—possibly within the next week or ten days.

Lay Drunk Driving, Manslaughter Charge In Highway Fatality

Norman Sheridan, Snowball, the 37-year-old father of three children, was struck and killed by a light truck on the highway as he walked towards his home from Aurora on Saturday night. William Harrison, 32, Wellington St. East, Aurora, has been charged with motor manslaughter and drunken driving.

Police contend that Harrison continued on after hitting Sheridan, and then returned to the scene and ran over the body a second time before the truck was stopped.

Stanley Walker, Aurora, driving home about 9 p.m. Saturday night saw what he thought at first a bundle lying on the roadside. When he was closer, he realized it was the body of a man. He stopped his car and went to the help of the victim. Within a brief time, a second car, driven by John Weddell of Kettleby, came along and Mr. Walker sent him on to bring medical aid. At this point, the headlights of another vehicle were seen.

Mr. Walker tried to stop the oncoming vehicle. He flashed his headlights, and went onto the road, waving his arms, trying to signal the driver to stop. "When he didn't stop, I had to jump to the ditch to save my life," he said.

The oncoming vehicle, a pickup truck, hit Walker's parked car and swerved sharply, running over the body of the accident victim. Police believe the truck was the same one which had hit the victim earlier, that it had proceeded on up the road, had turned around in a lane, and then come back and run over him a second time.

A hat, shoe and drill carried by the victim were found in a lane 250 yards away and police think they fell from the truck when it was being turned around.

Mr. Sheridan was a carpenter and he had been unemployed for the last three months. He had found work at Camp Bowden three days ago, and was walking toward his home after shopping in Aurora for new tools.

He is survived by his wife and children, of Snowball, his mother, Mrs. F. J. Andrews, brothers Stanley and Carman, and sister Elsie (Mrs. W. Bassett), all of Newmarket, and a brother, Cecil, of Creemore.

The funeral service was held Tuesday with interment in the Aurora cemetery.

Will You Help Too?

The Sheridan family is well thought of in Snowball where they have lived for several years. The tragic death of Mr. Sheridan was felt by all. It was natural that the neighbors of the Sheridans should turn to some way of helping the sorrowing widow and children. Mrs. William Blum took the lead with the organization of a Sheridan Fund and the first collections were made on Sunday.

It had been a hard winter for the Sheridans with Mr. Sheridan without work. But he had found a job and it looked as if all would have been well. But on Saturday night, Mr. Sheridan was killed on the highway.

At time of writing, the Sheridan fund has over $200. Additional contributions can be made through the Imperial Bank, Ed Reddick, assessor for King, Leonard Hall, King R. R. 3, Denny Storey, Storey's Auto Body Works, and Mrs. William Blum, R. R. 3, King, and the two newspaper offices in Aurora.

LIQUOR AND BEER OUTLETS

Mayor Rose Strongly Opposes Liquor And Beer Sponsors Rector Requests Their Names

Probably the most memorable night in the history of the Aurora Board of Trade was Thursday, March 27, when a prolonged discussion took place on whether or not liquor and beer outlets should be installed in the town, with the Mayor, Dr. Crawford Rose, emphatically opposing such proposals. The president, Mr. Ross Linton, occupied the chair.

What has been described as a "terrific" speech was made by the rector of Trinity Anglican church, the Rev. K. D. Whatmough. It has been said that each occasion finds the man; and the Rev. Whatmough has found fame overnight in Aurora as a result of his pungently-worded address, put over in a most gracious manner.

Other convincing opposing addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. Mulligan, the Rev. H. J. Howey and Dr. J. L. Urquhart. Dr. Urquhart's address was described as "most impressive", and that the "falling of a pin could have been heard while he spoke," so great was the interest taken by the large numbers present in what he had to say.

The emphatic opposition stand to the liquor and beer proposals made by Aurora's first citizen, Mayor Dr. Rose, has made a great impression among the citizens, who have thus been given positive leadership in a cause that will affect the life and character of Aurora for years to come.

A Backward Step
Among the speakers who supported the setting up of liquor and beer outlets were Mr. A. E. L. Maughan, chairman of the committee; Mr. Stew Patrick, Mr. L. Reuben, Mr. H. Seston and Mr. A. J. Child.

The Rev. Howey opposed the proposals on religious and moral grounds, while the Rev. Dr. Mulligan opposed for sociological reasons, citing the differences which were so apparent in communities where liquor and beer were easily obtainable and in other communities where such easy access did not exist. Both speakers pointed out that Aurora would be taking a backward step if the outlets were established in town.

The Rev. Whatmough pinned the attention of his listeners on many questions that are being asked in town, as, for example, why such a campaign for liquor and beer outlets has been started, and who are the original promoters of it? It is felt that his pointed questions will shatter the anonymity in which the promoters have clothed themselves and finally bring them into the open, or, perhaps, better still, bring the campaign to an end.

The Rector's Questions
"What are the motives behind the sponsorship of the liquor and beer outlets?" Mr. Whatmough asked his listeners. "And who are the men behind it?"

Continuing his argument Mr. Whatmough said: "The anonymous origin of the movement in Aurora for beer and liquor was creating many questions in the minds of the citizens of Aurora and was causing a grave loss of confidence. On so important a matter as this we have a right to know who is in and who is out. Let the members of the committee declare themselves and put away this anonymity."

Probing this anonymity still more closely, the rector continued: "If it should ever happen that a 'Yes' vote were given, and it was found afterwards that some of those who had supported the campaign had done so for personal reasons, such as the sale of land or property in Aurora, or for other rewards, a very serious situation would arise. For all of these reasons he urged the members of the sponsoring committee to put their names on the record."

Before concluding his address, Mr. Whatmough suggested that the members of the teaching profession and members of the school boards should have a similar opportunity to express their opinions as that kindly given by the Board of Trade to the clergy present. He believed that teachers and school boards had opinions of very great importance to place before the parents and citizens of Aurora. He trusted they would get a hearing.

The rector thanked the president, Mr. Ross Linton, and members of the Board of Trade for hearing the clergy on this urgent matter. On resuming his seat the speaker was given a prolonged ovation.

Mayor Rose and Dr. Urquhart
Dr. J. L. Urquhart told his attentive listeners that he was unalterably opposed to the introduction of liquor and beer outlets in Aurora. During his 17 years' residence here, he said he had seen the town enjoy great developments. He had found Aurora a good place in which to live and raise a family of three boys. He wanted to keep it that way.

The Mayor of Aurora, who wound up the debate, said he was in complete agreement with all that Dr. Urquhart had said in his opposition to the creation of liquor and beer outlets in Aurora. He had great faith in the future of their town and would oppose the committee's proposals as mayor and as a medical man. Dr. Rose said that none knew the homes of Aurora and district better than his medical men, and he would resist to the end such proposals as the anonymous committee had put forward.

TOSSING THE WOOL AROUND!

The Brain Trust of the Liquor and Beer Committee assert that if the sale of the liquids they represent could be started here, quote, "a definite step towards the more temperate use of these beverages" would result in Aurora. Last week we suggested that the words we have quoted pictured a degenerate Aurora full of reeling inebriates snarling up the traffic on Main street.

Who is it that is suggesting that Aurora citizens are intemperate? Nobody but the Liquor and Beer Committee who charge that "considerable quantities of beer and liquor are now being imported into town one way or another."

To suggest that Aurora citizens are intemperate is to libel them. Aurora is a town of model behavior. So true is this that the town is almost crime-free. We wonder how many towns in Ontario, or in Canada, can boast of so clean a crimestreet as Aurora?

The citizens of Aurora have a right to feel proud of their fine old town. So true is its crime-free record that when someone breaks into The Lions Hall on some juvenile berserk impulse, or enters a home while its occupants are away, the whole town shudders as though a horde of hoodlums were on the ramp. Such emotions of revulsion can happen only in a community where its crime-free record is being sullied.

"More temperate use of these beverages," sanctoriously pleads this Liquor and Beer Committee whose members stay underground, with only two heads so far showing above the surface, no doubt to take the knocks. We suggest that all the heads of the Brain Trust should come into full view.

Meanwhile, from their situation of concealment the Liquor and Beer Committee is tossing a lot of wordy wool around.

EVIDENCE FROM ORILLIA

And in order to bring about a "betterment of conditions in Aurora" this committee, which so far has refused to allow the names of its members to be made public, has a notion of importing considerable additional quantities of beer and liquor into Aurora. As a "definite step towards the more temperate use of these beverages" the anonymous committee wants to install a stockpile of liquor and beer bottles.

Of course the committee will not expect the liquor and beer stockpile to remain untouched. Having lamented the "considerable quantities" that are being imported "into town one way or another", the committee wants more of it to ensure "the betterment of conditions in Aurora". That sort of argument is so utterly illogical, and so devoid of common sense, that one wonders if those who put such language together were not themselves under the weather when they composed it!

Has a liquor store and beer warehouse brought about a "betterment of conditions" in Orillia since these outlets were introduced in April, 1951? Let us hear what the Mayor of Orillia has to say on that. In a letter to the people of Dundalk, where a vote is impending, he says: "Since the opening of legal government sale of alcoholic beverages in Orillia in April, 1951, illegal possession and sale cases have increased considerably when compared with similar months of 1950 and early months of 1951, prior to the opening of the outlets."

"The dollars which are spent for alcoholic beverages cannot be spent in the local stores for food, milk, shoes and other necessities of life, so how can the businesses of our merchants be more profitable?"

From his experience in Orillia the Mayor strongly advised the town of Dundalk to vote against the establishment of a brewers' retail store and government liquor store. The citizens of Aurora will not be fooled by high-sounding words from the Aurora Liquor and Beer Committee.

A NEWSPAPER AND ITS READERS

When contentious local questions break on a community, the local newspaper is confronted with a choice. Its editor can sit still and say nothing, or he can choose to express his personal opinions and take what comes. We have never hesitated about such a choice. We would rather be dead than be silent on matters on which we feel strongly.

What is the use of being alive if you have no opinions? Merely to breathe and eat and sleep is not to live a man's life. A tortoise goes through all those biological processes and often survives to a ripe old age. But what healthy man would want to be a tortoise?

It is our life-long conviction that a newspaper, besides giving news, should also convey opinions. These opinions may not always be welcome to all of the newspaper's readers. We have, however, a better opinion of the great majority of newspaper readers than to think they would discard a newspaper for the reason that they did not agree with opinions expressed in it. The facts prove otherwise.

As we showed in a recent review of some of the oldest British newspapers, that have continued publication for as long as 200 years, and in some instances longer than that, they have survived because of the contributions they have made to the questions of the hour. They have lived on because their readers knew that from them they would get honest opinions. To express an honest opinion is a newspaper's duty to its readers.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Town Hall Checkup Revealed 100 People Without A Vote Signed The Petition Papers

No apologies are offered here, or will be offered, for the amount of space given to the activities of the Liquor and Beer committee, which have suddenly gone underground as far as the other paper is concerned. The other paper is always referring to ours as the "Out-Of-Town Paper". Our circulation, however, shows we are a very much In-Town-Paper!

We are so much inside the town of Aurora that there are few homes today where a copy of Aurora News Pages cannot be found, and some folks who do not buy it borrow it from their neighbors—so we are told. By the time the exploits of the Liquor and Beer committee are ended, the folks who are at present borrowing copies of our paper will be buying it.

Not that we want Aurora News Pages to be smelling of liquor and beer, but because the folks don't want the former Colis odors replaced by something hardly less pungent. Because the activities of the Liquor and Beer committee have gone underground as far as the other paper is concerned does not mean that those activities have been halted. Far from it. Out information is that those activities are being co-ordinated for a supreme bid and that there is plenty of money available to support it.

Let there be no mistake about it. If the proposals of the Liquor and Beer committee were to succeed the whole character of the town of Aurora would be changed. It is the purpose of these columns to help build up Aurora, not to help destroy it. The Next Step

As we reported last week, the petition papers asking for a vote of the ratepayers have been completed. We are informed that of the approximate 800 signatures placed on the petition papers some 100 of these names were not on the voters' lists and were consequently struck out. Such a large list of ineligible names is not a healthy sign.

As we understand it, the petition for a vote of the ratepayers will in due course come before the town council for their assent for a vote. There will have to be a new enumeration of eligible voters, that is, a new voters' list prepared. The cost of this, presumably, will have to be borne by the taxpayers.

When the new voters' list is completed, we understand, arrangements will then be made for a poll of the people on whether Aurora is or is not to have a beer warehouse and a liquor store installed either on its Main street or on some side street. Side streets are said to be preferred, to provide as much anonymity as possible.

New Assessor
Mr. George Wilkinson looked in to see us the other day, to make himself known to us. He was aware of how strongly we had fought for the retention of his predecessor, Mr. E. R. Good, without prejudice either to Mr. Wilkinson or any other applicant for the position. It was our belief that Mr. Good was a first-class assessor and we shall continue to think so.

Now, however, that he has been replaced we shall certainly not bear any grudge to his successor; and we made this clear to Mr. Wilkinson who is a very pleasant young man of 29 years and has been employed in assessing work since he left school in 1939.

He came to Canada as recently as January last to settle here, but he had been here in 1951 by air for the happy undertaking of marrying a Toronto girl whom he first met while she was on a visit to England. After his marriage he returned to England and his duties as assessor at Walton and Weybridge. The call of Canada was, however, too strong for him to resist, and he is here now in Aurora, having secured the appointment as assessor from among nine applications.

Assessing has been his career and he qualified for the work through examinations. His apprenticeship began in the rating and valuation offices in Northwich, Cheshire. During the war he served for four years in the navy as a signalman.

We asked Mr. Wilkinson if he had any message for our readers, in the important position he has taken up in the town, and his reply was that he will be pleased to meet any property owner or tenant at any time, to explain or help them on assessment matters. While he has a job to do, he wishes to do it on the most cordial terms possible.

1952 TOWN COUNCIL

Good Chairmanship Has Kept Business Moving Smoothly: Dangers Of Committee Work

There have been six regular meetings held of the 1952 town council, that is, two meetings per month according to procedure. There have been no special meetings. All of which would suggest that council business has been successfully operated and that is correct. For getting through the business this council has no score against it.

The way in which any organization gets through its business is to a great extent, indeed almost to the whole extent, dependent on its chairman. A talkative chairman can ruin any meeting. So can a chairman who does not understand the business on hand. Burdened with such human infirmities there is no wonder that many a potentially good crowd of humans runs amok and disperses in despair.

The Aurora town council has at the head table a first-class chairman. Dr. Crawford Rose has the art of keeping a meeting going at a regular tempo with an ease that one somehow inherits rather than acquires. Himself he talks but little. He lets his members of council do the talking; and when in his opinion, as chairman, they have talked enough he adroitly brings about a conclusion of the matter.

Thus, business has been conducted smoothly and there has been a great amount of it. We speak from knowledge in saying that with other councils special meetings would have been called to handle the amount of business the Aurora town council has had on the table so far this year. So far we have gotten along without them. Expedient chairmanship is one of the explanations for that achievement.

Committee Work
 Another explanation is that much more work has been done in committee than heretofore. As we pointed out in a recent editorial, this commentator holds the view that committee work can be overdone, as it is just as often underdone.

Mayor Rose did appeal at his inaugural meeting in January for as much committee work as possible, to lessen the burden of work at the public sessions. That appeal has been met. It is not, however, in the public interest that committee work should be overdone, since work in committee is private. An excess of privacy can result in a loss of public confidence; and we are sure that that is the one thing that Dr. Rose would avoid at all costs.

It is quite apparent to us that the present Mayor of the Town wants public confidence increased wherever possible. He wants the people of the town to feel that their town council is worth while; and that is a very worthy ambition. The town council is the chief executive body and if citizens have faith in it they will gladly support and uphold it in every way possible.

Two Major Errors
 Of the work of council itself, apart from its admirable chairmanship and smooth transaction of business, this commentator is of the opinion that two major errors stand on the debit account, namely, the replacement of assessor, Mr. E. R. Good, and the projected sale of the municipal offices. Fortunately, the latter is not an accomplished fact.

Mr. Good was a first-class assessor; there is no question about it. Assessing is a tough chore, especially in Aurora where the industries have indicated a voracious appetite to appeal rather than to accept decisions. At least some of the industries. To their credit, some major industries did not appeal Mr. Good's assessments, but for the good of the town accepted

ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

A letter which had travelled many thousands of miles was passed along to us this week. It was written in Kenya and sent originally to a friend in South Kensington, England. From there the letter was forwarded to a family in the district.

Since the letter deals with the last week of the visit to Africa of Her Royal Highness, the then Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, it was loaned to us so that it could be shared with all our readers. The visit of the royal couple to Canada remains fresh in our memories. Next week at our local theatre, "Roxy", we shall have the opportunity of travelling across the continent with them in "The Royal Journey".

"I'll try to tell you all about our last week, so full of joy and excitement and tragedy. First, R. and D. lunched with us on their way home, 80 miles away, after being at the garden party at Government House, Nairobi. R. said the Princess looked lovely. She is very much prettier than any photograph. She wore a floating frock of mauve, with a big soft hat the same.

"Two days later we went to the little church about 12 miles a tiny bathroom which holds everything so they share a basin.

"On their last day they drove out to Tree Tops about 1 p.m. One can't go later, as the game come out with the dusk. It's about eight miles from Nyeri, and the last two or three miles down a track through forest to a clearing where one dismounts. Here the White Hunter, the escort and the native carriers take over. They tell you to keep silent and listen for any instructions.

"Then one sets out in single file through forest and up a steep climb of about half a mile. The White Hunter (often a retired soldier or someone from the Game Department) has arrived and so generally has another man. There are rough ladders fastened to trees all along the track at intervals, so that you can hop up if a rhino or anything charges across the track.

"The hotel is at the top of the hill built into a huge wild fig tree. Hotel is a silly name, but I suppose it is that in a sense. It is 60 feet up and reached by a ladder. Supplies, luggage, etc., go by pulley. Treeline is a fairly large room, wooden floor, rough table and benches, a stove burning cheerfully and a bar and some camp beds. Beyond is another room with more camp beds. A balcony runs along outside looking over the clearing where the pool is and the salt lick.

"To reach the 'Ladies' you go out along a carefully banistered branch to a little hut quite comely fitted up, and the same with the 'Gents' along another branch. Pulleys lower buckets every morning.

"Guests only stay one night. They get an excellent hot, three-course dinner and breakfast and hot drinks all night if wanted, as it's freezing cold. One doesn't speak above a whisper or smoke much, but actually, the animals, though sometimes suspicious, don't look up enough to be frightened.

"That night all records of game were broken. Never had there been so much or so interesting. Two big bucks fought to the death; two rhinos fought and all night long, herds of animals passed under the tree. It seems as if even the wild things wanted to please the Princess.

"In the morning people saw them driving back to Royal Lodge. They were laughing and seemed so happy, but poor girl, when she got there she heard the news.

ARE YOU THINKING of making a few changes to brighten up your home? Perhaps you'd like to change the accessories in your bedroom. Maybe make a new bedspread, drapes or slipcovers for the furniture. Small changes in a few pieces of furniture will often bring you large rewards for your efforts. Your own bedroom, which reflects your own personality, is a good place to start your spring redecorating.

Fabrics for Slipcovers

Closely woven, smooth textured cottons make the best slipcovers. They're dust proof, easy to manipulate, cool in summer and practical for cleaning. Most fabrics now suggested for slipcovering are pre-shrunk. Ask about this when you are purchasing your fabric. If the fabric of your choice is washable, but not pre-shrunk, it is advisable to shrink it yourself before cutting into it. Simply wet it thoroughly, partially dry it in a shady spot and iron while damp. If the material is not washable, steam and press it to remove as much of the shrink as you possibly can before fitting it to the chair. Pre-shrinking also applies to binding or any type trimming if the slipcovers are to be laundered.

Bedroom Ensemble

A new cover on a dressing table and mirror can give you a lift. If you do not have a dressing table, one can be easily made from a small ordinary table and covered with pretty fabric. A round mirror covered in the same material gives you a perfectly matched ensemble. The one pictured here is made from 2 1/4 yds. of plaid cotton and 2 1/4 yds. cotton in a solid color. If you wish directions for making the BEDROOM ENSEMBLE, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting Leaflet No. E-2350-1.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville
ABOUT CATS AND A SHOWER

Just at present we have a quartette of felines - cats to you - and it's like living in the centre of four small volcanoes, which may erupt at any moment.

Beauty, a bronze part-Persian, is a matron of many years, dignified, aloof except when the man of the house opens a parcel or sharpens a knife. Then, oh then, dignity goes by the board and Beauty climbs Archie as if he were a post, while Leo, Blackie and Thomas gives a barber-shop rendition of the meat song, that would put the Four Gentlemen or the Commodores to shame.

Leo is an orange Persian, measuring nearly three feet from tip of nose to tail, golden-eyed, plummy tailed and placid, he wanders through life making very little fuss and few demands, but in some mysterious way always getting what he wants, because he can manage to look so desolate that we feel we've committed a crime if we neglect him.

At four o'clock every day he asks out to go and meet Archie, whom he greets by lying down and rolling before him as he tries to get to the house.

Thomas is a fine Persian lad, with a big ruff, big eyes, a grey coat and a complaining voice, I think the voice is the result of being abandoned on a bitter winter's day to die or starve. We found him trying to eat a frozen crust, that the birds had scorned. If you go within a foot of him, he roars, thinking he has been hurt. If you sit on the chair he likes, he plants himself in front of you and stares so reproachfully that you, unless you are feeling cross, vacate it and see him jump up, turn round three times, and settle himself with a grunt of content that seems to divorce him from all the ordinary happenings of cat life, especially from the envious eyes of another cat, who also likes that chair. But Tommy has no qualms of conscience, he just sleeps on, with a gentle snore to let the world know that all is well with him.

We left Blackie to the last, because here is a feline that makes me believe, almost, in the doctrine of transmigration of souls. He is the only cat we have, who boasts no Persian blood; he is very small, coal black and so shiny that one can almost see oneself in his coat. Added to this he is so full of grateful love to the two people who rescued him from starvation, that he would like to spend the greater part of his life with his paws clasped round the neck of whichever beloved human he can reach, murmuring his love like a little brook, and looking adoration unmistakable. The other little bit of his time is devoted to guarding the premises. Fear of man, dog or cat, he knows not; he attacks, and although he is so small no one cares to tackle him.

He approaches the enemy with pink mouth wide open, long white tusks, yes he has, gleaming, and a strange challenging growl coming forth, and usually he is left victor in the field. The other evening Archie went out to get the Star, which is tossed off at our gate - at least it's supposed to be there, but we find it in unexpected places. Two, we found the other day which the snow plow had tossed up. But to return to Blackie - Archie didn't notice, in the dark, that a large cat which sometimes visits us

Bill Armstrong, as the convict, receives full wrath of Margaret Cullen as Persome, the bishop's scolding sister, in a scene from Newmarket High School's entry in Simpson's Collegiate Drama Festival, "The Bishop's Candlesticks". The Festival finals took place Saturday night at Port Credit High School. Newmarket's entry was highly commended by adjudicator Robert Christie for the fine individual performances and careful play direction.

N.H.S. Actors Commended For Work In Festival

By Kathrin Hooper

Last Saturday night, the four finalists in Simpson's Collegiate Drama Festival were presented at Port Credit High School, with Newmarket High School's "The Bishop's Candlesticks", Earl Haig Collegiate's "Submerged", Brampton High School's "Brothers in Arms", and Port Credit High School's "Thirty Minutes in a Street".

An amazing virtuosity and dexterity of performance made it very difficult to decide which play and players should be given the just awards.

All four plays were highly commended by Robert Christie, the adjudicator for the evening, as very fine choices for the abilities of the students. He particularly remarked that "they had a fine realization of the various authors' expressive purposes in the writing of each play, which they carried out with a sureness of touch and skill, surprising and pleasant to observe." Whatever the plays had to say was brought out to the full extent, which could have been easily destroyed if the young actors had not been aware of the authors' serious aim, whether it was for comedy, tragedy, farce, a dramatic situation, or an ordinary familiar scene from life.

In Mr. Christie's opinion, the players performed according to the highest standards of good theatre, far more than the presentations of school plays of a few years back.

The adjudicator's choice for the best play was Brampton High School's "Brothers in Arms", which also featured the best actor, Gordon Coyne, in the role of a slow, laconic backwoodsman, undisturbed by the urgent pressures of his city "brother", John Webber. Mr. Coyne was a natural in his part, and the figure he portrayed was made vividly familiar to anyone who has been in contact with hunters and fishermen living in the Canadian wilds, untouched by civilization. Mr. McGregor, the play's director, received Simpson's Drama Trophy on behalf of the school.

The best direction was awarded to Miss Patricia Detenbeck for Port Credit's "Thirty Minutes in a Street"; the play also having Peggy Baker as the best actress in the role of a fluttering little old lady extricating herself adroitly from a very embarrassing situation.

The six boys who acted in the all-boy cast of Earl Haig's "Submerged", (Jim Travis, Bill McLean, Pat Griffin, Dave Amer, Peter Shephard and Don Rowat) strove for a stark realism of characterization charged with electrifying emotion that held the audience in a tense grip as vivid as their own. They managed distinct individual impersonations. The set of "Submerged" was particularly effective and ingeniously staged, with authentic accuracy of the interior of a submarine.

Newmarket High School players in "The Bishop's Candlesticks", were particularly commended for their careful study of individual characterizations, showing a knowledge of human nature heightened with fine imaginative touches. Bill Wilson was particularly impressive as the subdued, kind-hearted bishop, fully realizing the deeply compassionate nature of his role. In direct contrast, Bill Armstrong showed a strong grasp of a suffering shunned human being changing to a realization and acceptance of true human values through the sincere and fearless goodness of the bishop. Margaret Cullen had a good characterization of the worrisome and affectionate sister of the bishop. Patsy Brown, Murray Gillespie and Bob Maisie equally effective in their parts. Messrs. George McNelly and Michael Steele, the play's teachers-directors, were specifically mentioned for their apt choice of the play, and for their careful direction.

Without a doubt, all the young players had an unaffected, sincere and serious concentration, giving a whole-hearted effort to their parts, that was more enjoyable and refreshing to see than many of the hackneyed typed roles of professionals.

If the dream of Ken Watts, the promoter-director of the Festival, can ever be realized to eventually include all Ontario high schools, then enlarged to include Quebec, and finally the Dominion, there will be a true spirit of the great art of the theatre started right in the high schools. From these excellent performances of Saturday night, it can safely be predicted that audiences would have an enjoyable weekly attendance at teenage plays.

HORTICULTURAL SOC. MEMBERSHIP HAS MANY BENEFITS

Membership tickets for the Newmarket Horticultural society are now available from Ernest Winter, membership chairman, or any member of the executive. Membership in the society for one year costs $1.00 and offers many advantages.

With the purchase of a ticket, members are able to purchase nursery stock through the society at a 10 per cent discount. Orley Hayes is purchasing convener and all orders for nursery stock must be received by him not later than April 15. All such purchases are made from Brookdale-Kingsway, Bowmanville, and the sooner orders are in the more likely purchasers are of having them filled. Popular items are soon out-of-stock.

In addition, members in the Newmarket Horticultural society this year can purchase roses, all name varieties, both Floribunda and Polyantha, at wholesale prices while the supply lasts. Flowering crab apple whips are also available through the society at wholesale prices. Mr. Hayes has details about this.

Among other advantages of membership in the society is that members may obtain subscriptions to "Canadian Homes and Gardens" for $1.65 instead of the regular subscription rate of $2.50. Addresses by outstanding horticulturalists, movies and slides on practical aspects of gardening and demonstrations of floral arrangements are featured at the society's general meetings. Shows are held during the summer months as well as garden visits and out-of-town trips to spots of horticultural interest. The annual Fall Trade Fair is sponsored by the society. The society carries on an extensive civic improvement program. Last year 200 trees were planted in the town, a clean-up week was sponsored and flower beds on public grounds in the community were planted. Juvenile work includes the interesting of the town's youngsters in all aspects of horticulture. Con- tests are sponsored in the schools. Subscriptions to "National Geographic" are provided for each school and many educational projects are carried out by the society.

TEACHERS PREPARE H.S. ASS'N PROGRAM

The interesting program for the March 25 meeting of the Newmarket Home and School association was under the direction of the teachers with Miss Eva Barnes as convener. Miss Eva Walker, Toronto, was guest speaker and Samuel Jefferson, principal Alexander Muir school, spoke on "Better Parent-Teacher Relations".

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Howard Morton, the second vice-president, Mrs. B. L. Sinclair, took the chair. Mrs. Sinclair called attention to a large display of books. These had been purchased for the school libraries from funds raised by the association through its fall fun fair.

Miss Barnes introduced the speaker and Mrs. John Swindells moved a vote of thanks following her very informative, but informal talk. The large group in attendance proved an attentive audience. Miss Walker spoke on "Citizenship". She told of methods we should use to promote better citizenship in our growing generation.

The meeting was opened with Neil Lothian, principal of King George school, providing the accompaniment for the National Anthem. Mrs. J. T. Rhodes, religious education convener led the group in prayer. Light refreshments served under the direction of the social convener, Mrs. Walter Johns, were enjoyed with everyone taking the opportunity to meet the speakers and spend a social half-hour.

OMISSION

The author regrets that among the names of those who had contributed to the Story of Sharon, that of Mr. William Hopkinson had been omitted. Mr. Hopkinson, while painting the Temple, had personally examined the ball on top of the building and kindly provided a detailed description.

Mrs. Stanley Hunter, Dennison Ave., will be hostess to King branch on Tuesday, April 8. This being the year end meeting, it is important a full membership be present. District president, Mrs. R. C. Baycroft, Gormley, will be guest speaker and will conduct election of officers. The annual fee of 50 cents per member will be collected. Convenors of standing committees will present annual reports.

The social committee in the charge of Mrs. Dan Rawlings, program convenor, is Mrs. Fred Dent, Mrs. Bob Walker, Mrs. George Billings, Mrs. Harry Edwards, Mrs. George Hately. The meeting will commence at 8.15 sharp.

The annual meeting and election of officers of Laskay branch will be held at the home of Mrs. Norman Etheridge on Tuesday afternoon, April 8. It is hoped a guest speaker will be present. Miss Marjorie McMurchy will explain the motto, "You can build success from failure" and the refreshment committee is Mrs. Marvin Hunter, Mrs. Geo. Forster and Mrs. Clyde Cairns. Arrangements for the W.I. euchre on Wednesday, April 10, will be completed. Payment of Institute fees will be made.

The March meeting of the Gormley branch was held at the home of Mrs. Russell Ellas on Wednesday, March 26, with an attendance of 27 ladies and nine children. The motto: "A good citizen is not content to just sit — he finds his place in any community", was given by Mrs. R. C. Baycroft. The March meeting of the Queensville branch was held on Wednesday, March 26, at the home of Mrs. Gordon Wilmet. After the singing of the Institute Ode, the Mary Stewart Collect was recited. The motto: "Education is not a destination, it is a journey, always we are enroute", was explained with illustrations by Mrs. F. Weddel and Mrs. L. Irwin.

The roll call: "My favorite book" was answered by 15 members; eight visitors also were present.

Routine business followed. A report on the bale sent to Jamaica was given by Mrs. A. Smith. It was decided to have the election of officers from the floor for the coming year. The president urges a good attendance at the April meeting to attend to this business.

The next euchre to be held in Sharon hall around April 23. Committee in charge is Mrs. F. Weddel, Mrs. J. L. Smith, Miss Cranley, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. L. Irwin and Mrs. B. Aylward.

Mrs. S. Eves, program convenor, read the "Life Work of Mary Bethune". Then Mrs. Eves gave a very interesting description of her recent trip to Florida. Following the National Anthem refreshments were served.

Members of the Sharon branch were guests of the Newmarket branch on Thursday, March 20, when the two groups met in the Agricultural Board room, Botsford St. Mrs. Elman Campbell presided.

A very entertaining afternoon was spent by all with the visiting Institute providing the program. A humorous reading telling of a man's troubles since his wife had joined the Institute was given by Mrs. Chas. Haines. Mrs. Allan Shaw played the piano for community singing. A group of the Sharon members were dressed in beautiful costumes of bygone days for this number of the program.

In her reading, Mrs. Norman Crone told of the joys in life while growing old, while Mrs. Kiteley told of the perils of the husband teaching his own wife to drive the family car.

Mrs. Harry Walker conducted a contest when ten Newmarket ladies had their Easter bonnets trimmed. The final reading was by Mrs. Harold Boyd. It was on "Women and Machinery" and was very amusing.

Mrs. T. A. Mitchell gave an interesting report on the district directors' meeting. The district annual meeting date for this year has been set for May 14 with the meeting being held at Mount Albert. Dainty refreshments were served and a social half-hour was enjoyed by the ladies.

The March meeting of Lakeside branch was held March 25 in the Memorial Hall when Mr. F. F. Marritt spoke on "Weeds and Weed Control" and was very instructive and helpful.

The roll call was answered by giving the location of a Canadian industry. Ten dollars was voted to the hall board of the Memorial Centre. It was decided to send a parcel to the Institute in England and members are asked to bring their donations to the April meeting.

Mrs. Geo. White, our director, sent a splendid report of the director's meeting. A nominating committee of Mrs. J. Gable, Mrs. W. Prosser and Mrs. E. Mace was named to prepare a slate of officers for the election next month.

Elizabeth Marshall delighted us with two readings. Peg Carr and Carol Boothby played a piano duet which they had given at Mrs. Pollard's recital.

Mrs. J. Gable conducted a contest on "trees" which was won by Mrs. K. Boothby.

A social hour was enjoyed.

Members of the Newmarket Girl Guide company provided the program for the Scout-Guide Mothers' auxiliary at its March meeting. Mrs. Morden Carter presided. Mrs. Carter introduced the guides; Mrs. Earthy Thompson and Mrs. Horace Jacques.

The guides began their program with the forming of the horseshoe when the colours were marched on. Company Leader Colleen Skead was in charge. Betty Daly recited the guide laws and Betty McArthur led the group in the Girl Guide prayer. The guides joined in repeating the promise and singing the National Anthem.

Square dancing by the guides under Mrs. Jacques' direction was next on the program. Margaret Ann Crowder sang as her solo, "End of a Girl Guide Day" with the remainder of the company joining in the chorus. There were piano solos by Mary Lou VanZant and Judith Carter and the program closed with a campfire and the singing of favorite rounds and action songs by the guides.

Council Debates Use Of Grader On Roads

A warm debate developed in Whitchurch township Council last week concerning the advisability of having the maintainers out on the roads at the present time.

The question of trying to preserve the roads through the spring breakup arose over a report from Clerk Crawford that Mr. Ross Winterstein of the Stouffville Sand & Gravel Co. had asked repairs to the 10th con. north of Lincolnville. Road Supt. Davis also told council that a delegation was to have attended council from the north township line and 9th con. north but had called to say that the condition of the roads prevented them from being present.

Reeve McLaughlin stated that he believed that something could be done to improve the roads to some slight degree, and called attention to the stretch of road in front of his own farm which he said was very bad.

"It would at least show the ratepayers that we're trying to do something," Councilor McCarron contended.

It was stated that the roads were as good as any other municipality's for this time of year, and there was not too much that he could do about it.

While Reeve McLaughlin said that he was only trying to make some suggestions, he continued to press for some action, and Road Supt. Davis stated that he would commence grading the next day, although he did not believe that much could be accomplished.

The matter of a new salary schedule for the township employees was up once more for discussion, and was shelved until next meeting which will be April 5th. Assessor Fred Cummings asked council that his car allowance be increased from $500 to $800 per year. Mr. Cummings stated that he drove his car 10,000 miles a year for the municipality, and this could not be done on $500. Council agreed that the mileage should be increased, but favoured holding the matter over until a full revision of employee salaries and allowances was brought in, and to this Mr. Cummings agreed.

Clerk John Crawford was instructed to prepare a bylaw asking the provincial police to renew their contract with Whitchurch for 1952, similar to the contract in 1951.

Whitchurch Township will pay $237.80 as their portion of the $1,380.00 levy for the Upper Holland Valley Conservation Authority. Largest contributor is Newmarket which will pay $524.64.

Four tenders were received for supplying the township with gravel in 1952, but the contract will not be let for a couple of weeks pending investigation into the quality of some of the gravel offered.

Beamish Construction Co. was the successful tenderer to provide Whitchurch with a bulldozer at an hourly rate of $12.50. Four construction firms tendered for the work.

Ask For Tax Exemption On Farm Lands

A delegation from the Whitchurch Township Federation of Agriculture appeared before the municipal council on Thursday evening asking that the township exempt farm lands over five acres for fire and police costs, and that the levy which is collected on the annual tax bills of all farmers, should be increased from one-fifth of a mill to one-half of a mill.

Members pointed out to council that exemption was being given to farm lands in other municipalities for fire and police protection costs, the reason given, being that these did not require the services.

However, the delegation was informed that while council was in sympathy with the suggestion, such a move required that a by-law be passed not later than March 1st so that no move could be made for 1952.

The matter of increasing the levy for federation support was left for further study.

Koss Armitage stated that whether everyone liked the system of unions or not, it was up to the farmers to build as strong an organization as possible and they should be prepared to pay in a little more money to support their association. Clerk Crawford revealed that no one had appealed against the levy in 1951.

Reeve McLaughlin said that he favoured the system, but would like to see all municipalities collect the same levy.

"It's the best organization the farmers ever had," stated Mr. Armitage. He contended that those who opposed it were doing so only for selfish reasons, because the Farm Acts took the speculation out of the markets.

Markham Township, it was stated, was collecting a half mill, Vaughan one fifth, King Twp. had promised a grant of $300, but nothing had been received to date. Reeve Elton Armstrong of King Twp. was opposed to the organization, members of the delegation told council.

Mrs. Ronald Watt reported on the successful tea and bake sale held by the Auxiliary during Scout-Guide week and completed the details regarding the catering for the Cub-Scout father and son banquets held on March 6 and 7.

Following the brief business session, light refreshments were served and the large group of mothers present enjoyed a social half-hour.

The Belhaven branch will meet in the hall on Tuesday, April 8. Motto: "The best way get to the top is to be the best man at the bottom" is to be answered by Mrs. Lealand Nelson. Roll call is a verse from the song sheet. Convener will be Mrs. Bernard Davidson. Hostesses are Mrs. Mundy, Mrs. Jacobs and Mrs. Horner.

Seed Fair Prize Winners

The York County Seed Fair this year brought out the strongest classes in many years with 38 exhibitors entering an even 100 exhibits, the largest classes being barley, late oats and ten ears of husking corn. Professor Jas. Laughland of the O.A.C., speaking on behalf of the judges, commended the members on the quality of their entries.

For some years, barley has been almost a failure but this year brought out ten entries, while there were 15 in the late oat class and 11 in the class for 10 ears of dent corn, with seven lots of registered oats and seven exhibits of baled hay.

Albert Rutherford of Woodbridge, M-H Farms, Milliken; J. M. Thirkle, Weston; Jack Frisby, Markham; Alfred. Bagg, Edgeley, and Davidson Bros., Agincourt, were top winners of the most prizes and the special prizes for new exhibitors by the A. E. McKenzie Seed Company went to Lawrence Keffler of Maple and Robt. Timbers of Stouffville.

Albert Rutherford won the open barley and registered oats; J. M. Thirkle won the 50 bus. wheat class and red clover; Clifford Wallwork won the open wheat class; Chas. Ingelton, Agincourt, both the shelled and cob corn; Lawrence Keffler, Maple, took the large class of late oats; Alf. Bagg of Edgeley the Clinton and Duncan Watson, the Ajax.

King City And District

Resolutions approved by King City Village trustees on March 31 were: 1. That King township council be requested to enact a zoning by-law with building lot size schedule to conform on general lines with drafts supplied by the department of planning and development. The zoning area would extend from the third concession road 2 1/2 miles west to the fifth concession and 2 1/2 miles north from the King and Vaughan townline.

2. That the township council be requested not to approve any more registered subdivision plans within the proposed zoning area without first consulting King City trustees.

"A zoning by-law should be possible," said D. M. Findlay, proposer of the resolution. This movement would prevent the village area from getting into trouble that some other municipalities have experienced.

The size of building lots set forth by the department of planning and development on a one-family basis is, 15,000 square feet where waterworks and sewage services are not available; 7,500 square feet with waterworks service and 5,000 square feet when waterworks and sewage is installed.

Street name signs will cost the village $1.25 for convex standards; double faced standards will cost $1.70, the village to supply posts and brackets. Chairman Crawford Wells agreed to inquire about costs of 2-inch galvanized poles. The number of posts and signs required to name principal village streets are, double face signs for Keele and King streets at the central section of the village; two single face signs for Keele and King streets; double signs on Doctors Lane, Williams, Fisher and Patton streets, Dennison Road, Station Road and Hoop Street.

Mrs. Mattie Jackson reiterated a petition to village trustees to promote the installation of watermains from Keele St. 725 feet westward into the Heritage Park subdivision, which would serve 16 lots, four of which are wanted immediately by a contractor and six others that have prospective buyers if village water service be made available. She said the township council had been consulted. Mrs. Jackson was advised to appear before King township council on the following Tuesday night, April 1, when King City trustees would be in conference with that body on several matters pertaining to village business.

Made Life Member
As a mark of high esteem for her devoted service, Mrs. Martin M. Jenkinson was presented with a crest pin and a certificate which creates her a dominion life member of the Woman's Auxiliary of the United Church of Canada. The honor was bestowed upon her by the Auxiliary of King City United church, with which she has been closely connected since her husband became pastor of the charge seven years ago.

A complete surprise to Mrs. Jenkinson, the presentation took place at the home of Mrs. John Parsons where the W.A. met on Tuesday evening, March 25. The hostess had the pleasure of reading the certificate which makes her a member of the W.A. Dominion Council, and read the significance of the four symbols composing the crest. Mrs. Parsons also placed the pin on Mrs. Jenkinson, who accepted the gifts in an appreciative manner. Mr. Jenkinson conducted the installation ceremony.

Mrs. Austin Rumble, the president, said, "We are very glad to have the opportunity to acknowledge the personal service of Mrs. Jenkinson, whose personality and untiring efforts mean so much to the united effort of our Auxiliary."

While Mrs. Jenkinson claims she is "just a member" of the auxiliary, her service in this branch of the church goes back 18 years when she taught school at Saskatoon, and joined the W.A. in the United church of that western town. Three years later, when she became the bride of the Rev. Martin Jenkinson, she was interested in this department of Albert St. United church, Oshawa, where her husband preached for a year. Returning to Pickering, Mrs. Jenkinson found ample activity in the W.A. of the United church where her husband was pastor. Coming to King in 1945, the Auxiliary work of her church has held much interest for her. In addition to this department, Mrs. Jenkinson has been associated with the Woman's Missionary work for many years. She is now president of the King W.M. and has recently vacated a four-year term as an executive officer of Toronto Centre North Presbyterian.

W. I. Eucharist Night
Luskay W.I. eucharist, held in Institute hall, had 15 tables, with proceeds amounting to $16, which will be applied to purchase of an attractive ledger book to form the Luskay Tweedsmuir Book.

The success of the evening was due to arrangements made by conveners, Mrs. Lawrie Boys and Mrs. Charles Black, assisted by Mrs. Norman Egan, Mrs. F. Buddin, Mrs. Norman Etheridge and others. Mrs. Etheridge and her sons made attractive posters to advertise the event. Refreshments were served and a raffle held, with music provided by Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Scott, Mrs. Sally Lloyd, pianist, and Mr. Garnet Williams, violinist. Mrs. Sally Lloyd, first prize eucharist, won a cup and saucer, donated by Crawford Wells; Mrs. Charles Hately, second, five pounds of sugar, donated by Edna Wood, Oak Ridges grocer; Mrs. Effie Bath, third, artificial flowers made by Mrs. Moore of Richmond Hill; Jesse Richards, men's first, Wood's four pound ham; Isaac Boys, second, four pound ham; Archie McDonald, five pounds sugar.

The Institute will hold a second eucharist and dance on Wednesday night, April 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dadson, Sr., of Toronto, visited Miss Kay Clark on Sunday. Douglas Dadson is a high school inspector for Ontario, Victoria counties, and part of North York. Mr. George Billings has become principal of Bond Head public school. He took the position March 19 after the resignation of the teacher there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrie Boys of Luskay motored to Thornbury on Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ivo McMurchy, making a call on several other relatives.

Weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Campbell were her sister, Mrs. Chris. Hawkins, and husband, of Toronto.

Mumps have invaded the home of Mr. Bert Wood, fourth concession, Elva, Jamie and Ronald are all ill.

David Drinkwater, aged three, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Drinkwater, King City, had a successful tonsilectomy performed at the Hospital for Sick Children last week.

"Mrs. Ralph Burns was expected home from the Women's College hospital, Toronto, early this week, where she has been a patient since Friday, Mar. 21. She was able to be out of bed for a short period last week. Douglas Hollinshead of Kinghorn was sick in bed all last week. Doug is an ardent hockey player and played with Schomberg team in the Bantams "B" for two seasons. Because a player must reside within seven miles of his home team, Doug stayed with his grandmother, Mrs. Fred Douglas, at New Scotland, while his team was in action. He was able to commute to Kinghorn school with his teacher, Miss Evelyn Courtney Teencrafters' work.

Teencrafters are engaged in making bracelets, earrings and buttons from copper, in addition to woodcraft projects, in preparation for the sale of work sponsored by the senior Kingcrafts organization on June 4. The teenage group made a visit to the home of Mr. Douglas Boyd, Richmond Hill, their instructor, recently. The girls received some instruction on silver craftwork and were delighted to see Mr. Boyd's workmanship in silver and pewter. Mrs. Ivan Specht motored Suzanne Grew, Ellen and Ruth Wilson, Gladys Johnston, Norma Wells and Gill Fogg to visit Mr. and Mrs. Boyd.

Conveners Assemble W.I. Work
The task of sorting out the past year's activities of King City Women's Institute into the proper departments, is always interesting. This is done annually when conveners of standing committees meet with the president and the secretary. In conference were president Mrs. A. E. Jarvis, secretary Miss Doris Patton, and conveners, Mrs. J. P. Norris, community activities and public relations, Mrs. B. G. Jackson, citizenship and education, Mrs. Aubrey Campbell, agriculture and Canadian industries, and Mrs. L. E. Rolling, resolutions. Other conveners were unable to be present.

With the aid of the monthly minutes the entire program of work was reviewed and each of the five conveners received her assignment which she will present in her annual report to the general meeting on April 8.

First Grandchild
Mrs. Arthur Wellesley has related an interesting birth, that of Doreen Ruby Gollschaly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gollschaly (Ruby Evans) of Byers, Colorado, born at Denver hospital, March 16. The baby is a grandniece of Mrs. Wellesley, and the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Evans of Bradford, a sister of Mrs. Wellesley and Mrs. Bert Cadden of King. The Evans have been married for 44 years.

Miss Alice Ferguson attended sale of clothing sponsored by Newmarket Home and School on March 25. She bought a quantity of clothing and shoes which she will donate to the Scott Institute, Toronto. Miss Ferguson purchased several pieces of clothing at King W.I. rummage sale in January which she sent to the Scott relief organization. In addition she made a large number of cot quilts and woolen coverings this winter which go to the same cause.

Mrs. Eliza Nesbitt, 87, was taken to York County hospital on Sunday where she will remain for several days. Mrs. Nesbitt, who lives at the home of Mrs. Lenhardt, was suddenly taken very ill with heart attacks and a slight stroke about three weeks ago.

Mr. Scott Bovair, second concession injured his right ear when he slipped on ice at his farm, striking his head on the sharp edge of a farm implement late last week. Three stitches were required to close the wound. Mr. Bovair has had bad luck with his ears. A few years ago he injured the left one when a horse backed against him and that time nine stitches were needed.

Three generations of the Hollinshead family, Kinghorn, are shown at the Hollinshead mill. They are Mrs. Bill Willoughby, her year-old son Paul and her father Ernest Hollinshead. In the background is her uncle, J.B. Hollinshead. As entrance pupils, Mrs. Willoughby and her father were exactly 40 years apart. They were in the first and last class of Walter Rolling who taught there. Ernest recalls that he made 99 percent in arithmetic and five percent in grammar. He passed his grammar the following year.

Mr. Douglas Wellesley, Eversley, president of York County Holstein Breeders' Association, has had a busy season attending banquets. He chaired the York County event held at Markham last week and was guest speaker at Brampton. He has also attended annual banquets at Orangeville and Peterborough. Mrs. Wellesley accompanied him to some of these.

Mrs. Elizabeth Follitt of Eversley has left for Cincinnati where she will visit her son, Wm. Follitt, for three months. Her niece and husband of Toronto motored her to Ohio. Before her departure, her friend, Mrs. Chas. Neill, gave a tea at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Armstrong, Jr., when Mrs. Follitt, Mrs. Mina Bridge and Mrs. Jas. Ball were guests.

Mr. Lyle Wells, Eversley, entered York County hospital during last week for a check-up and remained for several days. He had previously suffered an attack of influenza.

Hurt By Falling Tree
Irving Pihak, 18, of Toronto, received bruised ribs while assisting Leonard Shropshire, third line, fell a tree in the farm bush. The branches of the large tree trunk had lodged in a nearby tree as it was about to fall. While the two men were trying to cut the limbs, Pihak slipped and fell as the tree descended. Fortunately, it was only three feet above ground and the branches saved the young man from being completely pinned to the ground. Leonard rolled the huge tree trunk, freeing Pihak.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Meriton Wells, Eversley, on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ireland and Maurice of Weston. Mr. Ireland is a brother of Mrs. Wells. Mrs. Arthur Fleet was back in bed again last week with head and chest cold.

Guernsey Breeders Make Visit
A bus load of 45 members of the Brant and Oxford Guernsey Breeders' Club made an inspection tour of herds of York County recently. They had boarded at Woodstock early in the morning to arrive later at the McCleary Farms, near Edgeley, Vaughan township. From there they travelled to the Tan-

RHAPSODY OF SPRING
(By Our King Correspondent)
The traditional ode to spring may mention birds, flowers, and singing brooks, but neighborhood small fry take a different view of the matter. They delight in plain, unadorned "mud", the kind that sticks like cement. They are plastered from head to toe, youngsters revelling in spring. Three little girls sat contentedly on the post office steps one forenoon last week, aged 5, 3 and 2. The faces and hands of the two youngest were blotched with mud, to say nothing of their outdoor suits and rubbers. The eldest had managed to stay fairly free of the stuff.

The young ladies put on a little show. The 3-year-old could suck her muddy thumb, the little one could lick her muddy lips, the big one could snap off your nose and hold it between her fingers. The innocent grime means spring has come to stay, and by the time the youngsters are ready to don their pretty summer frocks, their mothers will have forgotten the time it took to clean and dry off the signs of spring.

AFTERMATH OF CRASH

Sacred Heart Pupils Pray for Pilots

The 40 pupils of Sacred Heart school, fifth line, King township, have "adopted" 42 weekend fighter pilots of 400 City of Toronto and 411 R.C.A.F. Auxiliary squadrons, for whom they pray daily.

"The thought that we owe so much to our airmen, soldiers and sailors who give us civilian defence became very tangible when two jet pilots lost their lives in the sky above our school, March 8," said the children's principal, Sister Mary Fleurette. "The pupils were visibly affected by the tragedy and as they gathered bits of the Vampire wreckage around the school after the crash, we felt we owed a debt of gratitude to our brave airmen who risk their lives for our protection."

The Sister wrote at once to the families of the dead pilots but she felt there was more than consolation to offer. There were prayers, simple prayers from children's hearts that each of her 40 students could offer daily, "They will one day face the world on their own and they will then know that the power of prayer will sustain them through difficulties."

Writing to Sqn-Ldr. W. N. Stowe, commanding 400 auxiliary, Sister Fleurette told how the pupils had adopted the members of the R.C.A.F. and had promised to pray many times daily for the safe-keeping and welfare of air-force men. "However," she later stated, "we are cognizant of the fact that the pilots of the jet planes are exposed to still greater dangers to life."

Each pupil had promised to pray for his pilot. The Sister was supplied with the names of those pilots of 400 auxiliary with a request that those of 411 Squadron be also adopted by Sacred Heart pupils. There were 42 on the list and Sister Mary Fleurette adopted two of the pilots herself. The airforce was grateful for the gesture of the children and their teacher, Sqn-Ldr. Stowe wrote.

But the work of the students was not complete. To each of the 40 pilots, the pupils of grades 7 to 10 wrote a letter and sent a medal of St. Christopher. In reply the school received two framed copies of the R.C.A.F. crest with a verse written by Pilot Officer John Gillespie Magee who served during the Battle of Britain.

"These mementos remind us to pause for prayer. We are also reminded that a piece of the plane wreckage found near the school was a valuable clue to finding out the cause of the plane crash above our heads that fateful March 8."
